Overpass Issue Won't Die

County Wants Out of Access Obligation; Council Reaction Split

That South San Francisco overpass issue just doesn't want to seem to roll over and die out.

City Attorney John Noonan Monday told the councilmen he had received a phone call from the county indicating that since the overpass had been voted down they would like a deletion of their obligation to provide an overpass access alongside California Golf Club.

Immediately Mayor Patrick Ahern questioned the desireability of the move. He indicated that if the city should want to construct an overpass in the future it would be liable to purchase access now offered free.

Councilman Frank Bertucelli sided with the mayor. He recited a quarter of a million dollars as possible future cost of this access once Westborough extension is built and fronts the golf course.

But Councilman Bill Borba said he couldn't understand why the council even continued to bother with it. "The voters don't want it," he said. The junior councilman went on to explain that he felt 50 percent of the public was misinformed concerning the overpass in the first place and that was the reason it was defeated.

Councilman Frank Mammini, who contracted a chill during the afternoon pre-council session and was absent at the regular meeting, said the entire conversation was based on assumption.

Mammini said he was of the impression there were no problems with the county, and that the city was (or should be) in control of the right-of-way.

Noonan said, "It sounds like you are." He explained that since the voters turned down the overpass the county feels it is no longer liable to provide an overpass access along the golf course side of the road.

To refute Councilman Bertucelli's quarter of a million dollar figure, Councilman Warren Steinkamp on several occasions had Director of Public Works Lou Goss explain that were the overpass to be built it would be built in the road right-of-way and there would be no property purchase requirements from the golf course for the site.

Noonan concurred with this fact. His point, however, is that if the city wants to put in an overpass in that area in the future it possibly could be liable for severance damages because the county would no longer be required to provide an easement. He cited no cost figures.

The city attorney praised former city manager Tom McKenzie's foresight in setting up options in the overpass matter.

"The city manager did a sensible thing in giving the city options," said Noonan. "Councilman Borba's motion (which led to the referendum and election) put the overpass within terms of the overpass agreement (as set up by McKenzie).

"The petition and election now essentially requires the deletion of this access requirement," said Noonan.

Councilmen instructed Noonan to contact the county and attempt as much as possible to preserve the city's rights under the original agreement.

ELIO A. FONTANA of Colma admires replica of bronze plaque to be placed at Jefferson High School athletic field, renamed in his honor. Fontana 'Overwhelmed'

Two Communities Fete Veteran School Trustee

By WILL E. THOMAS

Two communities and county and state dignitaries paid tribute to veteran school board trustee Elio Fontana at Nick's Rockaway Restaurant in Pacifica.

Over 200 persons gathered to honor Fontana for his contributions to education as a member of the Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees for 18 years.

"I've been to a lot of testimonials," Fontana commented after a parade of dignitaries and friends had submitted praise, recollections and resolutions of commendation.

"But only this evening," he continued, "have I realized how interesting these speakers are."

And he smiled that big grin that has been familiar in Daly City and Pacifica for years.

Fontana retired this year from the Jefferson board a few months after his appointment to the San Mateo Junior College District Board.

A leading monument maker in the country, Fontana was honored at a gathering sponsored not only by his colleagues and administrators of the district, but by the district's teacher organizations as well.

When Fontana, a former Jefferson High School student body president and track star, retired from the board Jefferson's athletic field was renamed the Elio A. Fontana Stadium. Architect Corwin Booth presented a replica of the plaque — being made — to Fontana at the testimonial.

Fontana noting later he was "overwhelmed" at the reception, also learned that the testimonial committee had established on his behalf at Skyline College the Elio A. Fontana Student Loan Fund.

He also received a service plaque from Mrs. Jane Powell, representing the Jefferson Board.

Resolutions were presented by Mayor Nick Gust, an old schoolmate, on behalf of the City of Pacifica; from the City of Daly City, by Acting Mayor Louis Papan; from the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce of which he, Fontana, is a recent past president by Don Halverson; from the Laguna Salada Elementary School District by Dale Buettgenback; from the Jefferson Elementary School District by Edward Tomasello; from the County Board of Education, as well as the County Board of Supervisors by Chairman Jean Fassler of Pacifica.

Assemblymen Leo Ryan and Carl Britschgi presented State Assembly resolutions, Daly City Councilman McRobert Stewart read a wire from Governor Ronald Reagan and the evening's master of ceremonies, Jeff High Dist. Supt. Edward D. Morgan, read a Senate resolution from Senator Richard Dolwig who was unable to be present.

In addition, Daly City's Peter Markovich, representing the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents' Assocation, contributed a box of golf balls that "all shoot in the low 70's."

And still another commendation came from the California Industrial Educators' Association that represents all the industrial arts teachers in the district.

SSF Breakwater Pact is Awarded

South San Francisco councilmen have awarded the Duncanson - Harrelson Company the contract for construction of the breakwater extension at the Oyster Point Marina.

The firm's low bid was $51,-354. Engineering estimate, originating from the city's engineering staff, was $71,839. Bids ranged from the low to a high in the $80,000 bracket.

In other business, the councilmen:

Adopted resolutions accepting deed from Rotary Plaza, as well as authorizing agreement for storm drain improvement of the facility.

Authorized the repair of the roof of the police department at a cost of $31,080.

Approved a call for bids on the Shaw Road pump station.

Okayed preparation of setback documents leading to possible assessment district should a road be required in the future on Oyster Point Boulevard near Industrial Way.

Granted an easement to the El Camino Golf Course for construction of a paved road.

Postponed for a month a report from a representative of the Rust Engineering Company concerning incineration of garbage.

Noted that contractors and developers are cooperating in dust control program.

Purchased 10 cars from Volonte Motors for a total cost of $29,399.

Approved change order of $2,500, reducing construction cost of Clay Avenue Park from $73,181 to $70,681, under contract of Labrucherie and Associates, Inc.

Accepted notice of completion of landscape development on Hickey Boulevard at Hilton Avenue.

Okayed $250 change order addition to contract with L. R. Yegge Company for installation of a box culvert in the Winston Branch of Colma Creek.

Approved additional $375 to the contract with L. C. Smith Company for the Westborough Boulevard improvement project in order to modify the retaining walls at the intersections of Galway Drive and Olympic Drive.

Also approved a $400 change order request of L. C. Smith Company on the same project in order to add a two inch copper water line to serve the landscape sprinkler system in the center island between Olympic Drive and Galway Drive.

Heard several comments on the laxness of L. C. Smith Company in completing Westborough Boulevard project and instructed Director of Public Works Lou Goss to obtain a schedule of completion from the firm.

Received a report from the Chamber of Commerce noting membership has risen to 281.

Jeff High's Towel Loss Is Concern

LOST: Since January 6, 1969, 15,020 towels.

That's a sizeable problem that's causing an equally large bit of consternation for the Jefferson High School District's physical education department heads and chairmen.

The figure doesn't include the dozens and dozens of towels that have disappeared since the 1966-67 school term.

Ask Glenn South, the district's business manager who keeps track of problems like that.

The district in the last five years had purchased 3,880 dozen towels. Fore each of those 46,560 (South's addition) towels, the district has paid from $5.25 (in 1966) to $6,105 (in 1970).

South points out that the "average life of a towel (shrinkage) is three years, but we are losing the towels long before they are no longer usable due to shrinkage."

South declared that department heads (PE) had agreed on procedures in 1969 that might help reduce the loss.

Despite action to restrict use and unauthorize access to towels, he said, "our towel loss continues."

South's desire is to intensify the battle against the lost towel.

A number of different systems are employed throughout the state "to combat this universal problem."

Another meeting is likely.

Now, Size of Crowds an Issue!

By BOB PETERSON

Size of crowds became an issue at Monday night's South San Francisco council meeting, an apparent outgrowth of the last session when residents filled the aisles with chairs.

The council chamber was filled to the alloted capacity before the 8 p.m. session was to begin. As more people came through the door, some chairs were brought in.

Fire Chief John Marchi quickly stepped up to the microphone and ordered the chairs be removed in the interest of fire safety.

Council critic Don Gamma added fuel to the fire by saying that in the years he's been attending meetings nothing has been done to prevent chairs being brought in. "It looks like fire laws are being carried out to their maximum now," said Gamma.

Chief Marchi admitted the capacity rule has been violated in the past. He said the reason nothing was done was because it was not the desire to insult anyone.

According to Marchi, after the last council meeting he was instructed by Acting City Manager Larry Ross to present an occupancy load. "Only 70 people should be in here," said Marchi. "And the aisles shouldn't be blocked."

Councilman Warren Steinkamp said he recalled that over the years the chambers have been overly crowded. He "wondered why this never came up before."

Marchi, apparently becoming irritated, reiterated the request came from the council. He said the chambers also were supposed to provide two exits. There is only one. The fire chief

Congressman Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey, due for dedicatory remarks, was detained by a schedule snarl outside his district in Santa Cruz and did not appear for the ceremony.

Purple Heart veteran Gerald C. Mason, a San Bruno letter carrier both before and since service in Southeast Asia, unveiled and read the commemorative plaque.

Closing words on the plaque is a poem which reads, "Their mission fought 'gainst angry pleas; Honor hardly bought when not everyone agrees. Who goes there among cathedral trees? The souls of these."

Mayor Neil Christal greeted the throng of 200 with a tribute to the dual conservation-memorial purpose of the grove.

The program participants were introduced by Mrs. Norma Griffith who conceived this conservation-memorial as part of a citywide volunteer reforestration project called Tree Times Five. The name came about because of a desire to replace trees uprooted by developers and the State Division of Highways in a ratio of five to one.

Broadmoor Trying to Halt Daly City Annex Efforts

The Broadmoor Property Owners' Association is attempting to thwart Daly City's attempts to annex commercial parcels in unincorporated Colma.

Daly City has initiated steps to annex property near its Civic Center. A new Department of Motor Vehicles office structure is to be built on portions of the land sought for inclusion.

Broadmoor last year failed in a bid to incorporate itself when the Local Agency Formation Commission ruled against the community of some 10,000 persons and also declined to allow the area to vote on the measure, asserting it had no powers to allow a ballot.

One of the area's arguments was that Daly City sooner or later would launch a piecemeal annexation campaign, which would reduce the tax base of unincorporated Colma, of which Broadmoor is a section.

A unique, emergency newsletter was handcarried door-to-door by youngsters who live in the unincorporated region, which is nearly surrounded by Daly City, over the weekend.

It urged residents contact a variety of legislators "protesting this act by Daly City." It also hoped for community involvement in the issue.

"If the present proposal by Daly City, to annex the property for the new Department of Motor Vehicles and telephone company buildings, is approved and they do in fact become part of Daly City, this will directly affect every homeowner in Broadmoor," the paper declared.

The result, it stated, would be to "remove tax producing commercial property from the tax rolls of unincorporated Colma" and require a boost in property taxes "to provide the same level of police and fire services that we now enjoy."

It went on to explain that "our police department (the only police protection district in California) is operated on a budget that is set by the amount of land in its jurisdiction."

Any loss in land would bring about less revenue.

"This is why we can't lose any land at all, and retain our present level of services," the newsletter declared.

The newsletter took exception to comments attributed in local newspapers to the Daly City mayor, Bernard (Bud) Lycett, now on vacation in Japan.

"Mayor Lycett's comment on Daly City providing fire and police protection in emergency for Colma incorporated and unincorporated is completely false," it was asserted in the distribution.

"The Colma unincorporated area police answer more than a few Daly City calls at the request of the Daly City Police Department. Under the mutual aid agreement, it is incumbent upon each police and fire to answer any request for aid."

Six Daly City Police Department officers live in the Colma unincorporated area, the newsletter also pointed out, "and as of today, no complaints have been registered by these men or their families, to the protection provided by the area's fire and police depatrments."

The paper urged "every homeowner" in Broadmoor to write to the LAFCO in Redwood City, Supervisor Jean Fassler, Sen. Richard Dolwig, Assemblyman Leo Ryan.

It also suggested that "those of you people in the Broadmoor area who care in any way about your community to get out of your house and take some interest in what is going on."

To "stay as we are," the residents of the small, hemmed-in community "must fight the powers in Daly City," the newsletter stated, asking attendance at the BPOA meetings.

The Daly City annexation, it reiterated, must be protested, "otherwise it will hit each and every one of us where it hurts most—in the pocketbook."

Go-Ahead Signalled on DC Planned Development

The city council in Daly City Monday gave its approval to further consideration by the planning commission of the municipality's first planned development district.

Councilmen were following the planning commission's recommendation on a modified plan submitted by E. V. Schulhauser & Associates for the rezoning of portions of Serramonte — specifically that area near the freeway south from Hickely Boulevard.

Some 50 persons attended the session, but none spoke. This was in contrast however, to last Thursday's planning commission meeting when nearly 150 residents of the Serramonte subdivision attended and spoke up.

Most appeared to protest a previously submitted, but later modified plan for rezoning along the standard methods.

City Mgr. David Rowe indicated the residents seemed to support the planned development concept, which would allow less conventional development of the area. Mixed residential and school site development are involved, Rowe explained.

Strict regulations involved in standard zoning procedures need not be strictly conformed with under the planned development structure, Rowe said, indicating, nonetheless, that when the project in question reaches the "precise plan stage"" there will be specific reference to setbacks, open space, and structural height.

Candidates Asked Education Views

The Laguna Salada Elementary School District in Pacifica wants some answers from state assembly and senate candidates.

That coastal district, always short on money and dependent on state aid even more than its surrounding entities, has asked five questions of the candidates:

— Why would (or did) you vote for (or against) AB 1001 as presented in the last stages of the 1970 legislative session?

—What steps do you propose or support to accomplish the equalization of educational opportunity among California elementary districts?

—What measures do you propose or support to strengthen reading achievement?

—Do you feel the Laguna Salada Union School District is adequately financed from state and local sources at present? If not, what do you propose to do about it?

—To what extent do you feel the state legislature should be obliged to provide additional state support to local districts when state programs are mandated (for example, single session kindergarten)?

A message sent candidates noted:

"As citizens duly elected to the governing board of a local school district, we feel that elementary education is of paramount importance to the welfare of our state."

It added, "We feel that one of the major responsibilities of legislators is in the area of education and school systems."

Poolside SSF Meeting Set

A special tour of the new swimming pool at Orange Memorial Park, South San Francisco, is scheduled for the councilmen at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Upon the request of City Attorney John Noonan, the Monday night council meeting was adjourned to that time and place.

Noonan said he suggested adjourning in that manner in order to "avoid criticism of violations of the Brown Act."

The Park and Recreation Commissioners will give the councilmen the cook's tour. The grand opening will be announced later, according to Acting City Manager Larry Ross.

Laguna Asks Community Goal Assist

A campaign to achieve community involvement in a review and assessment of the educational goals and philosophy of the Laguna Salada Elementary School District of Pacifica has been launched by Dist. Supt. Jim Brien.

Brien is attempting to get numerous organizations in his community to name representatives to serve on a citizens' committee "whose purpose will be to organize the procedures for obtaining community involvement."

He explained that trustees feel that the elementary schools under its jurisdiction "have a strong mandate to review and assess the educational goals and philosophy of the district in light of the needs of our children as they prepare for participation in the American society of the future."

A broad base of opinion from the citizens who currently live in the school district-community is necessary, Brien pointed out.

"It is our hope," he added, "that the citizens' committee, will survey the community to find out what parents and citizens feel should be the goals and philosophy of the Laguna Salada Elementary schools."

Pay Raises for Three Jeff School Aides

District Supt. Frank Greenwood and his two aides were authorized 5.6 per cent cost-of-living salary increases by Jefferson Elementary School District trustees Oct. 13 — but on a 3-2 vote preceded by a few verbal objections from citizens.

It was one of three issues that split the board, which also—by the same 3-2 ratio—rejected an attempt to change the meeting place and day, but approved the renomination of a personnel commissioner.

The superintendent had pointed out that all salaries relative to certificated and members of the classified service had been acted upon and approved by trustees, leaving only Greenwood and Associate Superintendents Roger Barthuli and Dr. Vinton Stratton without pay boosts.

Greenwood explained his reasons for the increases in material given the board, but not made public.

Board chairman Ed Tomasello thought that Greenwood's requests were "considerably under what the classified and certificated people got," and thought the figures to be "fair under the circumstances."

Board member Joseph Lewkowitz agreed, explaining he thought the percentage was "much less than what I thought the board might go for," and moved for the increase.

Al Collett, who seconded the motion, cast the third affirmative vote, while Trustees Dorothy Adams and William Schumacher voted "no."

Citizen Peter Forrester wondered why, since Greenwood had been alluding to financial problems, he "wants to add to it."

Mrs. Madge Bradstreet suggested the "poor people" would not be pleased to pay such large salaries, noting that "a lot of poor people have trouble holding their homes."

Mrs. Riva Krips unusually soft-spoken, urged trustees not only to refuse the increase, but buy up Superintendent Greenwood's contract, as she challenged his capabilities.

Trustee Collett joined Mrs. Adams and Attorney Schumacher in turning aside again an administration request that board meetings be conducted on Wednesday nights in council chambers of the Daly City Civic Center.

Collett said, "We should keep the school district completely separate from City Hall; not that there's anything wrong with City Hall, but they should be separate."

Tomasello, who just previously had cited his approval of the move for most of the reasons outlined by Greenwood, commented, "What you're suggesting is that the high school district is connected with the city."

Collett said that was not the inference he had in mind, pointing out that the high school board only rented district office space and essentially had no meeting room of its own.

Greenwood said City Mgr. David Rowe had informed him that only the first and third Wednesdays would be available to the district.

The superintendent said he "strongly" recommended the board shift its meeting, since, he said, the facility at 101 Lincoln is "inadequate to accomodate the citizens of this community, as well as members of the staff who are interested in attending the school board meetings.

"In addition," it is now obviously apparent to everybody that the accoustics in that room are such as to make it virtually impossible for observers to follow the business of the meeting.

Greenwood said the room could be utilized for conferences and citizen committee meetings, so would not constitute an abandonment.

Most citizens present seemed to prefer staying out, indicating in brief statements that — as one woman put it — trustees could be better heard if Tomasello would not talk with his pipe in his mouth; if trustee Lewkowitz didn't cover his mouth with his hand and if mind in the wake of more intoward trustees and shove away his microphone.

said that in the past he had been "told to lay off" whenever the matter of overcrowded conditions or another exit was brought up.

City Attorney John Noonan hastened to cutoff the verbal exchange, saying there are "too many of these innuendos."

Mayor Patrick Ahern attempted to pin down Marchi to specifics. The chief replied that he has a written record of the times the matter of fire safety in the council chambers has been brought up in the past.

Another resident, Henry Rogers, suggested that the council meetings be moved to a school auditorium.

Ahern said that if this becomes necessary it will be done. He then alluded to the fact that after the first of the year "cable TV will be taking these meetings right into your home."

Surrounded By 'Plants'

Steve Sone, a 24-year-old house painter, was surrounded by his plants when Daly City police officers visited him at his small, old residence at 10-A Bepler Thursday.

The officers—Detective Robert Solo and patrolmen Terry Henebeck and Tom Mason — were there to inquire about some marijuana that a passerby believed to be growing at the Sone home.

They knocked at the door, were invited in, and — a police spokesman said — found the Sone living quarters "completely filled" with marijuana plants of various sizes.

In all, police removed two pickup truck loads of potted pot plants from the room, they said —a total of 500 marijuana plants in all.

Detective Captain Richard Sims described the cache as probably the Daly City department's "largest growing haul." Up to this, a load of 100 plants would have been considered a good sized take.

Sims said Sone not only had the growing marijuana, but about 11 packages of processed lids of it as well. The plants were visible from outside, Captain Sims said.

Sone, said to be a "very cooperative" suspect, was booked on charges of possession and cultivation for sale of marijuana.

S.S.F. Police Ask Parity Solutions

South San Francisco's policemen have offered councilmen two new alternatives in settling the issue of whether parity does or should exist between police and firemen.

As part of the 1970-71 wage negotations the memorandum of understanding signed with the police included a stipulation that the issue of parity be submitted to a mediator.

Both the police and the council agreed they would abide by the decision. Before he was fired, City Manager Tom McKenzie was in the process of lining up a mediator.

According to a letter Acting City Manager Larry Ross has submitted to the councilmen, the police have indicated they have since met on numerous occasions to discuss alternate methods of solving the impasse.

The first alternative is "that the council agree that parity exists and that the police are entitled to a work week reduction to 37½ hours."

Ross told the councilmen that in order to accomplish this the city would have to hire five more men immediately. He said the cost the first year would be in excess of $50,000.

The second alternative is "that the council agree that parity has been broken and a resolution declaring parity is resolved be issued to make the position clear."

According to Ross, if the council were to agree to this alternative, a resolution may not be needed since parity was not established by resolution. He said a formal agreement may be best.

"The police association indicated adoption of either alternative in lieu of the mediation would conclude negotiations and the matter would be considered closed for the year," said Ross.

The acting city manager made no recommendations on the police suggestions. Councilmen made no comment other than they will study the suggestions.

Ross, however, did make a recommendation on another request of the police association. An agreement during the negotiations asked to study a police request for 30 additional days of sick leave. It was recommended for denial by Ross.

The request would give the police 150 sick leave days. Ross said no other group has requested additional sick leave, and it would not be feasible to grant to one group and not another.

Ross, incidentally, is working on various other memorandums of understanding concerning other city employe groups that needed a followup by the city manager.

Varied Month for Firemen

The San Bruno fire department responded to 16 calls between September 6 and October 13, Fire Chief Herbert Freitas disclosed.

The nature of the calls ranged from a fire on Capuchino High School's archery targets to a bomb search.

Colma School Wins a Dress Code Change

A second dress code deviation has been approved by trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School.

Colma Intermediate School, whose students drafted its own modifications of the standard guidelines adopted early last year, will join Benjamin Franklin Intermediate in obtaining revisions.

Six changes were approved, as written by students, although Trustee Bill Schumacher said he hoped the points would be rewritten to be more "positive."

Everyone should wear clean, neat clothes.

—Girls may not wear blue denim jeans, stretch pants.

—Girls may wear dress pants.

—Girls may not wear T-shirts, white or colors.

—Boys cannot wear sandals to school

—Boys cannot walk around the school with their shirts off.

Trustee Ed Tomasello opposed the modifications, urging, as he did when the Ben Franklin request came in, that a standard guide be retained for all schools in the district.

S.S.F. Council Chambers Too Crowded

Resident concern in the operations of South San Fancisco government has reached a stage where the council chambers overflow, which in turn concerns the city fire marshal.

Councilmen were informed at their midweek study session that the council chambers lately has been exceeding the authorized number allowed by code.

For many council meetings residents have had standing room only. And at the last meeting an attempt was made to place chairs in the aisles for people.

When asked at that time by Mayor Patrick Ahern to let the councilmen know when the capacity limit was being exceeded Fire Chief John Marchi said, "It already has."

Council critic Don Gamma at the midweek study session pressed the councilmen for answers as to what will happen to the excess people wanting to witness council meetings.

Councilman Bill Borba indicated there would be no problem because after the first of the year the meetings would be on television, apparently the city's cable system as part of the FCC requirement for local programming.

Ken Strom, Postmaster in Pacifica, HRC's Chairman

Pacifica Postmaster Kenneth C. Strom Thursday was elected chairman of the San Mateo County Human Relations Commission succeeding Stuart Leeb of Portola Valley.

Strom won on the first ballot in a new election procedure suggested by the Rev. Charles Arnold of Pacifica, under which each commissioner was to indicate his choice for chairman on a written ballot. The person getting the least number of votes would be eliminated in successive rounds of balloting until one received a majority. It turned out that Strom got a majority on the first round.

Mrs. Lillian Meadows of East Palo Alto was elected first vice chairman and Leonard Thomas of Redwood City was chosen second vice chairman. They were the sole nominees.

Strom has served as chairman of the commission's law enforcement committee and has guided the development of a restrictive shooting policy for police officers that is presently under consideration by the San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association. The proposed policy statement has received wide acclaim.

Leeb served as chairman for 10 months, taking over when Frank Spadarella of Daly City resigned the post to campaign for the State Assembly in the June primary election. Spadarella, who remains on the commission, lost the Republican nomination in the Twenty-seventh District to John Sherman.

Police Car Bid Problem

South San Francisco councilmen have a bid problem because of a policy to give local business priority.

The situation revealed at the midweek study session has to do with bids for the purchase of eight police cars.

Acting City Manager Larry Ross explained to the councilmen that of the city's three car dealers who usually bid on the vehicles, only one did.

Ross also explained that the low (and only) bidder had no knowledge of the fact the other two dealers were not bidding. He therefore considers the bid an honest attempt at winning the contract to supply vehicles, and is recommending accepting the bid.

Mineral and Gem Fair

The Daly City Rockhounds, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, will present the Golden Gate Gem and Mineral Fair on October 24 and 25 at the War Memorial Community Center in Daly City.

The fair will start at 10 a.m. both days and will run until 10 p.m. on Saturday, and until 6 p.m. on Sunday.

There will be 72 exhibits of precious gemstones, carved jade, opal and ivory, exhibits of jewelry made by the club members, and displays of rare and unusual mineral specimens.

A special map of the gems and semiprecious gemstones of California will be on display.

This giant map shows rough and polished stones for every county in the state and has taken almost two years to complete. Special demonstrations of jewelry making, gem cutting and sand casting in silver will be presented on both days of the Fair.

There also will be rough and polished minerals and jewelry for sale, door prizes every hour, and a grand prize award will be presented Sunday. The puplic is invited to attend; admission is 75 cents for adults; children under 12 free, if accompanied by an adult.

MRS. CHERRY TWOEY models some beautiful and unusual jewelry she will display at Golden Gate Gem and Mineral Fair in Daly City. Mrs. Twoey designed and handcrafted the pieces, including cutting the gems. The pieces shown include jade earrings, lapis lazuli and emerald rings, agate, coral and obsidian pendants.

D.C. Showing of 'Martin Luther'

Westlake Lutheran Church has invited the community to see the movie, "Martin Luther," at 6:30 p.m. October 25, at the church.

This award-winning movie has been shown in theatres and churches around the nation.

It is an absorbing drama of the Reformation era with great insight into the life of Dr. Martin Luther and other people and events of this important era.

There is no cost for the showing.

"Westlake Lutheran is committed to the unity of Christ's church," said the Rev. Thomas J. Unmacht, pastor of the congregation, "and we feel that in order to accomplish a greater unity it is important that we all understand the heritage and tradition of ourselves and other fellow Christians.

"This movie portrays the beginnings of the 'Protestant Reformation' movement and the tremendous influence it has had on the history of the church and the world," said Pastor Unmacht concluding, "We do not celebrate the Reformation, we observe it. We do celebrate the good news that Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox Christians are cooperating as never before in so many areas of Christian mission and service."

Reformation Sunday, October 25, is a time set aside for all Christians to dedicate themselves to re-forming or renewing their lives and their churches, he added.

Westlake Lutheran Church's worship hour is at 11 a.m. each Sunday in the sanctuary at Avalon Drive and Westmoor Avenue in Daly City.

Church school classes for three-year-olds though adults meet at 9:45 a.m.

"Avalon Drive," a children's choir and education program for second through sixth graders of the community meets at the church every Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. Rex. John Foreman of Westlake Community Baptist and Pastor Unmacht are in charge of this program.

SSF Driver Dies After Pole Crash

A 35-year-old South San Francisco resident died Saturday afternoon following a single car accident Friday evening in South San Francisco.

Police said William Joseph Rosenberger of 532 Del Monte Avenue sustained massive head injuries when his car swerved out of control on East Grand Avenue and hit a light pole.

According to the police, witnesses told them Rosenberger's vehicle accelerated, the horn sound and the vehicle swerved to the left, crossed the oncoming traffic lanes and hit the pole.

Police units responding to the scene found Rosenberger slumped across the front seat. He was taken to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco and later transferred to Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame.

ROBERT PARKER, president of the Daly City Rockhounds, inspects some petrified camel bone he found on the last club field trip in Fernley, Nev. The bones are an estimated 10 million years old according to U.C. experts. Other bones found nearby by club members were of prehistoric horse and badger. Some of the bones will be on display in Daly City.

MRS. NIELS LARSEN of Daly City shows a map of California's gemstones which she and other members of the Daly City Rockhounds have assembled. The map shows rough stone as it is found on the earth and polished gems from the same rock.

S.S.F. Urged To Reject Teacher Plan

South San Francisco American Federation of Teacher (AFT) President James Lynch has told the South San Francisco Unified School District trustees that it should reject participation in a master teacher plan.

Lynch said the board should seek to improve teaching instead by raising the status of classroom teachers.

Himself a teacher at Southwood Junior High, Lynch told the board that Superintendent Paul Nielsen "has carried a political football" for Assemblyman Leo Ryan.

He said Nielsen "tried to sneak Ryan's certified master teacher merit pay plan through the district without consulting teachers." According to Lynch, district administrators have voted against the plan also because Nielsen did not consult them.

Lynch called the plan "a merit pay system and a political answer to problems of the schools."

The AFT leader said that politicians are blaming teachers for the low state of education but that teachers have no authority over their students. "It is the administrator who is responsible for passing failing students," said Lynch.

"The certified master teacher rating is a fancy name for merit pay, and merit pay has been tried and has failed all over the United States," said Lynch.

He said that Leo Ryan did not have a pilot program and that no 'test' study was needed. "Merit rating is not new and it does not merit retesting," said Lynch.

Lynch also said the AFT was not against participation by the public in the program. He said, however, the AFT was opposed to lay people and administrators having more voice in merit pay than teachers.

"I disagree with Mr. Nielsen's implication that lay people, such as school boards, have been evaluating teachers for years. The boards are prohibited from doing any such thing."

Lynch said the AFT would agree to a pilot study which would have administrators teaching one period a day; have teachers evaluate administrators; and grant teachers power to stop the passing of failing students ,and the disruption of classrooms by the unruly

"That is the way to improve schools," said Lynch.

Landscaping Problems

Landscaping on private property is under fire in South San Francisco.

Planning commissioners have made a formal request to the councilmen that landscaping on private property be maintained.

It was explained that when a building permit is issued the problem of getting landscaping looking nice is quite simple. However, once the construction is completed, in many cases, the landscaping is forgotten.

Director of Planning Dan Pass told the councilmen his department does not have the time nor the manpower to police the landscaping throughout the city.

Landscape specialist John Hoffman is the more likely candidate for this purpose. He, however, explained that the city has no "teeth" for him to use to force the continual upgrading of landscaping on private property.

City Attorney John Noonan explained it would be a matter of enacting an ordinance to provide the machinery necessary to enforce landscaping.

Acting City Manager Larry Ross is reviewing the matter. He said he will discuss the problem with the city attorney and make a recommendation at the council's next study session.

In another area of landscaping, the matter of beautification of railroad rights-of-way came up.

Councilmen agreed to notify the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) that it was the city's desire to have the PUC instruct the railroad company to beautify the rights-of-way within the city.

Burglar at Bruno Home

ed to police September 14 4esulted in he loss of $1770 in cash and property to Randall Cover, 1790 Kains Avenue.

Police said someone pried open the bedroom window and ransacked the residence. The incident occurred some time during the first part of the week.

In addition to paper bills and coin, the burglar got away with savings bonds, luggage and miscellaneous jewelry, police said.

Value of loss in another burglary this past weekend was reported to be $575. Police said John Nelson, of 2701 Chabot Drive, itemized his loss to include a camera, jewelry and a gun.

Police said entrance was gained when the burglar broke the glass on the kitchen door and ransacked the home.

Hospital Okeh'd

Plans to construct a new Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco have been conditionally approved by that city's planning commissioners.

The use permit request is to establish a hospital on the east side of El Camino Real, opposite Arroyo and Del Paso Drives.

Commissioners approved the permit on condition the hospital plan meets subsequent requirements of the city's architectural committee and the various department heads.

Another condition is that the fire chief is able to amend his requirements of the facility during advanced stages of planning if he deems it necessary.

Also a proposed seven-story tower, not scheduled for completion for up to ten years was given approval in principle.

Commissioners gave a conditional approval also to a use permit request of veterinarian Ernest Siegel to establish a veterinary medical facility in an existing building at the Westborough Square Shopping Center.

The facility will be located in the center's northeast existing "par three" golf course at 1035 Mission Road.

They approved a use permit of Humble Oil and Refining Company to construct two pump-island canopies as additions to a station at 100 Baden Avenue.

And a variance request of Renaldo Pepi to construct an industrial building in the required rear yard of a building site on the east side of Lawrence and Harris Avenues also was approved.

Commissioners further instructed their secretary, Dan Pass, to write a letter to the fire chief inviting him to attend the November 9 meeting.

Family Service Plan for Pre-schoolers

Family Forum

The Pacifica Family Service Office is providing a new program for the preschool child.

On November 3 a series of group discussions on the art of family living will begin at the Pacifica office, suite 108, 80 Eureka Square.

The sole prerequisite for enrollment is to be the parent of one of more pre-school children (this does not exclude parents who also have older children) this will enable the group to have one factor in common at the beginning of the course.

The 10 meetings will attempt to deal with feelings and emotions that arise from the differences and conflicts in family interaction. There will be an emphasis upon discussion on areas of interest to the whole group.

The hours will be 7:30 to 9 p.m., and the fee for the 10 meetings will be $10.

This new program is an outgrowth of a suggestion by the Second Congress for Community Progress held last spring in Pacifica. The Pacifica Family Service Advisory Board requested that the Agency's professional staff investigate the feasibility of such an offering.

The instructor is a member of the part time Family Service staff, and has been attending a variety of seminars oriented to discussion of family interaction.

Enrollment in the group will be limited, and on a first come basis.

The Family Service Agency of San Mateo County is a nonsectarian Crusade supported casework agency. It is available for consultation in marital problems, teen and couple counseling, therapy for whole families, help for the myriad of problems that arise from living.

Pacificans can have help with their budget and finance problems on Thursday evenings, too.

All of the professional staff are graduates of accredited schools of social welfare, and many are members of the Academy of Certified Social Workers, and are licensed by the State of California as Clinical Social Workers.

The Family Service Agency of San Mateo County is a member of the United Bay Area Crusade, and is accredited by the Family Service Association of America.

THE YWCA has issued an urgent call for volunteers to work in the tutorial service for Daly City School children.

According to Mrs. Barbara Reich, publicity chairman for the "Y," there is a desperate need for all types of tutors and most especially a need for bilingual persons able to speak English and Spanish.

Mrs. Reich emphasized that teaching experience is not as essential as the desire to help children and your ability to relate to youngsters. Persons volunteering must be willing to meet a weekly schedule of one hour or more.

The tutorial project has been undertaken in cooperation with the American Association of University Women and to date has been so successful that three additional schools are asking to be included in the program. For more information call the YWCA office in Daly City, 756-7370.

Opera for Pacifica Via Spindrift Group

The Pacifica Spindrift Players enter a new phase of theatre this year in its second offering of the 1970-71 season.

Opera! Now in production, the PSP is staging the American Opera (originally written for television) by Gian-Carlo Menotti, "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

With stage direction by Aubrey Lumley and musical direction by Mildred Simon and Cynthia Gerdes, the players have obtained professional singers to carry out the leads in the traditional Christmastide opera.

Double casting the role of Amahl's mother will be Mildred Owen (Simon) local soprano and former performer at San Francisco's operatic nightclub, The Bocce Ball, and Claire Latham of South San Francisco, currently in the Lamplighter's Gilbert and Sullivan Operatta, "The Pirates of Penzance."

The difficult role of Amahl, the 10 year old crippled child whose eyes envision the entire production will also be double cast.

Playing this role will be Anthony Stibor of South San Francisco and Frank Simon of Pacifica.

The visitors, the three kings, are being sung by James SMalley (Balthazar) of San Francisco, George Baker (Melchior) also of San Francisco, and Dale Emde (Kaspar) of Pacifica. Both Smalley and Baker have performed the same roles many times in the past and Emde, well known Pacifica tenor has also appeared at The Bocce Ball.

Assisting the kings in the role of the page will be Jack Wolf also of Pacifica. Additional cast members include the villiagers, shepherds and shepherdess' which make up the chorus. Dancers in the production will be Sandra Finley (Miss Pacifica 1963) and Cheryl Sharp. The production will open a four (4 only) performance run on Thanksgiving weekend. All performances will be in Skyline College Auditorium. For further information regarding tickets, please contact Mr. or Mrs. Ed Roy, 355-6660.

ELIZABETH CAMPBELL is the new San Francisco YWCA executive director, succeeding Lucy Schulte, who has retired. The new director's area includes San Mateo, Marin and San Francisco Counties, in which the YWCA provided services for more than 29,000 participants, with help from the United Crusade. Miss Campbell came from Worchester, Mass.

The Blue Birds will have a contest to see which group can build the best sand castle.

Mrs. Sheila Regnart, guardian of the Ta-Wan-Ka Camp Fire group, will demonstrate to the girls how to sand sculpture.

A disc jockey from a radio station will be at the site from 3 to 4 to lead all the girls in a song fest, to conclude the day's activities.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS

GHOULISH FIGURES haunted the halls of TN this week, startling innocent bystanders and confused freshmen. In reality, Count Dracula and his sinister entourage were TN drama students in disguise, practicing on their make-up skills for the forthcoming Family Service Agency Spook House.

The Spook House, an annual fund raising event, will raise money to help finance the agency's community services.

This year's spooky location is the Pedro Point Driving Range. The Spook House will operate for three nights, October 28, 29, and 30. Doors creak open at about 7, and admission price is 50 cents.

ANOTHER TN Hallowe'en goody is the AFS Sincere Pumpkin Patch which will go into business this weekend on the lot next to Wisby Realty, across the street from Linda Mar Shopping Center. AFS is Pacifica's chapter of the American Field Servie, the international scholarship and student exchange program.

TN and Oceana members of AFS will peddle their pumpkins all day Saturday and Sunday. A special surprise appearance of the The Great Pumpkin also is planned.

The pumpkin patch will help raise money to send a Pacifica student abroad next year.

WINNERS of the faculty popularity competition (who received a pie-in-the-face at last Friday's rally) were: Roger Passera and Donald Coder. (Coder was the un-official runner-up. He looked so crestfallen watching his rival win, that our mascot let him have it, as well.)

PG&E Speaker For SSF Chamber

Guest speaker at the October 28 luncheon of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce will be Fredrick Draeger of PG&E's advertising and publicity department.

Draeger will speak on "Nuclear Power in Perspective." The luncheon will be held at Bertolucci's Restaurant, 421 Cypress Ave. No host cocktails are from 11:45 to 12:15. The luncheon is $3.50 per person.

Coastside Board Of Realtors Meeting Today

The Pacifica-Coastside Board of Realtors will meet at Cardoni's Corner in Half Moon Bay at noon today.

In addition to a speaker, on the agenda is induction of 13 members including Erwin Putrich and Hazel Rousset of Felix Realty, Fredric Lyon of Lane Realty, John Rice of Dolphin Real Estate, Gilbert Anda of Pacific-Western Realty, William Craven, Lois Replogle and Bernard Balaban of Red Carpet of Pacifica and William Hroziencik of American Saving and Loan Association.

A report will be made by the nominating committee on next year's recommended slate of officers, and nominations will be opened from the floor.

Juniors Planning Class Activities

Serramonte High School's junior class has started to plan some of their activities, including the junior prom, the KYA Oneder game, a car wash and a bake sale.

Also the class hopes to have a breakfast and a dinner, as well as an overnight activity during the term.

Gold Rush Tavern Is 'Goal' For Football Fans

It was a great football weekend for Peninsula fans and Tom Garrett's Gold Rush Tavern seems to be one of their favorite spots. A large crowd was gathered here Sunday afternoon sipping cocktails and watching the 49er-Ram contest on television . . . New Southern co-owner Julio Donati was not only dining at his own restaurant Sunday night but also paying off a debt to his good friend Paving Contractor Buzz Haskins. Haskins who recently returned from his home in Palm Springs, was the dinner guest of the popular South San Francisco restaurateur . . . Make your next dinner at the Belmont Prime Rib an epicurean banquet by ordering the luscious Caesar Salad. The way Maitre d' John Kartis prepares it at your table using his own secret recipe for the dressing is nothing short of culinary genius. Enthusiastic patrons come from as far away as San Francisco just to enjoy this exceptional treat. . . . Georg Ericsson, the Mayor of Stockholm, Sweden, wound up a visit to the U.S. in San Francisco, where he dined at Doros. The Mayor left his card with Don Dianda, on which he wrote "Thank you for a magnificent dinner."

Tom Garrett

LUXURY MOTOR HOTEL—There's a considerable bonus for guests in Reno's new 17-story Arlington Plaza. Upon registration, guests of the Plaza immediately get more than the convenience of Reno's only full-service motor hotel. They get the bonus of several specialty shops and recreation rooms in the Plaza's sister building, the 22-story Arlington Towers apartment-office complex right next door. The Plaza offers in return Reno's new elegant gourmet restaurant and lounge, Les Champs Elysees, the restaurant's adjoining outdoor swimming pool and garden, and six floors of valet parking within the hotel.

Henry Solomon, president and general manager of Foster Lunch System, Ltd., has been a steady commuter between the East and West Coasts these past few months, what with the many restaurant deals "on the fire." Solomon's only complaint is that he doesn't have enough time for his golf game — and this could be serious . . . You're sure to be pleased with your luncheon, dinner or banquet when selecting A. Sabella's on San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf. This is a family-operated restaurant, with mother, Angelina, and son, Lucien Sabella, taking full charge of the three-story restaurant operation. . . . Members of the famous Mexican Folklorico Ballet attended the Finocchio revue to cheer for one of their fellow members of several years ago — Renee De Carlo, now a featured dancer in the Finocchio female impersonators show. De Carlo first came to San Francisco as a member of Folklorico, then stayed to join the popular North Beach show, where his ballerina style and his colorful wardrobe. including China Poblana costumes, are a great hit with the fans. . . . Scotty Campbell's continues to be a leader in the prime rib parade. Meats are the primary attraction at this famous Redwood City restaurant; only choice grade is served. Other fast-moving items are Barbecued Baby Ribs, Scampi (deep water shrimp) and chicken.

Over 20 different business associations and companies are slated to meet this coming week at South San Francisco's International Inn. General Manager Doug Young wishes to thank the key executives of these and other organizations who continue to schedule their business functions at the International Inn. . . . Ah, me! To catch up with Pacifica's Nick Gust for a moment's conversation takes more luck than a winning Daily Double at Bay Meadows. This Scribe now mails in appointment requests and confirms by telephone. Nick is a very busy man, what with being Mayor of Pacifica, minding his three Rockaway Beach restaurants (Nick's Rockaway, The Moonraker and The Papagayo Room), and perfecting his golf game . . . A meal at The Matterhorn Swiss restaurant in Burlingame is a delightful experience. The skill of Chef Wilfried Blarer is apparent in such superb creations as Fondu Bourguignonne and Cordon Bleu. Dinner attracts guests from all over the Peninsula. . . . Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant presents luncheon specials with entrees changed daily (Monday through Friday) from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Corned Beef and Cabbage is our Thursday favorite. For fresh seafood, poultry and delicatessen, visit Vince's Market next door . . . TV comedienne JoAnne Worley signed autographs for admiring fans between bites of Steak Dianne in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery, in downtown San Francisco.

Political Figures Make Oreste's Meeting Place

Oreste's, a restaurant that rates high in popularity as a meeting place of well known political figures, executives and celebrities from all walks of life, is open seven days a week, including Holidays. All food is prepared under the supervision of Owner Joe Piccinini, a master of the culinary art. Oreste's decor is rich with fine, old Italian oil paintings, and wine bottles of every size and shape adorn the walls . . Millbrae's spacious Kings Bowl complex offers fine facilities for private groups and business conferences. The south side of the beautiful Blue Peacock restaurant converts into a private dining area, while another smaller room is available for luncheon gatherings . . . Frank Reynolds, evening waiter at the Black Stag restaurant in Belmont, has to be one of the busiest persons on the Peninsula. Besides his restaurant duties, Frank works for the PGA and teaches Scuba Diving on a part time basis . . . Plans are already in motion for the Skylark's annual Halloween party. Slated, naturally, for Saturday night October 31 it promises to be a wild costume affair. Restaurant owners Rich and Tony will award prizes for the best costumed patrons with the judging to take place at the "ghostly" midnight hour.

Joe Piccinini

Shecky Greene will film scenes for "The Love Machine," a Mike Frankovich production in which Greene has a starring role, during his current Riviera date. Starlite Theater will serve as the location and none could be more authentic. It has been his Las Vegas "home" for more than a decade, and it was here he built his reputation as one of the great comedy talents of the postwar era . . . Consistently fine service and top quality in everything at the Villa Hotel is your "reward" when you schedule a function in the traditional surroundings of San Mateo's exciting resort-like hotel. Today, the Villa Hotel is setting the pace by thinking ahead to bring you now most of the things you won't even expect to find at your disposal for months hence. "Computer reservations, for example, are just as simple as calling American-Express Space-Bank, toll free, to book at our hotel," says Steve Norton. "Where else but at the Villa Hotel can you get so much of the very best and get it for so much less!" The space age-computerized innovations of today have done nothing to disturb the distinctive charm for which the Villa Hotel is noted . . . The Axe House, a new fast-food restaurant serving charcoal-broiled hamburgers, Boston baked beans and draft beer, is now open in Palo Alto. Usual features include outdoor dining on a tree-lined patio and a special grinder which minces meat for the patron on the counter in his view.

Shecky Greene

Prominent San Francisco dentist Dr. Jerry Leitner hosted an important dental seminar in the posh executive dining room of Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina district . . . The Friday and Saturday night musical antics of Duke Watson and The Shells are proving a big hit at The Castaway, a beautiful Polynesian restaurant nestled among trees on Coyote Point. The music and entertainment of this talented group is so infectious that many early-dinner patrons linger on to sip exotic beverage concoctions until the "last call" is announced around 1:30 a.m. Everyone agrees, the idea of weekend entertainment is another coup for General Manager Jim Pias . . . Atherton's Lord Fletcher Inn has the mood and atmosphere of an authentic English Pub. Says Frank Thatcher, owner-operator of this splendid restaurant, "the Lord Fletcher Inn is a restaurant where the word quality means more than in most dining establishments."

WILL E. THOMAS

City Editor, The Post

DALY CITY'S CLUCKING SOCIETY is tongue-wagging and doing other things, like raising eyebrows, over Jefferson Elementary School Dsitrict Trustee Dorothy Adams' revelation she had to pay $10 to get copies of some warrants from a couple of years ago from Dist. Supt. Frank Greenwood's headquarters.

QUOTABLE: "To suggest that Mr. Agnew's right to free speech should be curtailed is to suggest an injustice. Vice President Agnew is a citizen like any other. However, because he is Vice President, he has a responsibility to all the people in America and it is often hard to tell if he is aware of that responsibility.

. . . If the nation could stand the oratory of men like Roosevelt and Lincoln, it can certainly withstand the wrathful speeches of one Spiro T. Agnew." — Mark Simon, Skyline College press columnist.

CONTINUING OUR READING of the Skyline College publications, we note the apathy of Our Age has stretched its yawn to the With-It Generation, if editorial writer Richard Collins is correct in his observation:

"That very catching disease of apathetical repugnance towards student activities which has plagued this campus since its beginning seems to still be strong and communicable."

He suggested:

"The young people on this campus who ridicule the older generation as being an apathetic, silent majority are nothing more than a silent majority, apathetic generation in training themselves."

THERE'S BEEN an attempt to give Ben Franklin Intermediate in Daly City a "new look" by painting it to furnish a fresh, neat image that, hopefully, will boost pride and subsequently lift the desire of pupils to achieve academically . . .

The paint job is a vast improvement (now, if they will finish the job on the north so apartment dwellers might share in the improved view) and steps to keep it that way has come from the administration:

No gluing, stapling, tacking up of pictures, posters. Defacing of the walls calls for punishment . . . the extent of which, we hope, will not be any more mere holding on to the also newly painted corridor poles.

THE THEFT of bikes, particularly the 10-speeders, in Daly City is mounting. So much, in fact, that a special detail has been put on to curb the action at Westlake and Serramonte Shopping Centers. Four juveniles were picked up in this regard over the weekend. Fourteen and 15 years old, they used bolt cutters to liberate a ten-speed cycle chained to one of the Serramonte bike racks. But, even at that, it's better to chain and lock. Hopefully, not every potential bike thief carries bolt cutters.

SOME OF THE FOLKS who attended that program at Buckeye Grove City Park over the weekend say an otherwise fine conservation-memorial project — "Tree Times Five" — spearheaded by Mrs. Norma Griffith, wife of the San Bruno councilman, was tarnished by a program lash-out at Councilmen George Corey and Maurice Hamilton.

"At the insistence of Councilmen George Corey and Maurice Hamilton, in council meeting of October 13, 1970, the City of San Bruno repudiated its labor support and bill "Tree Times Five" $328 for the work already done. City park workers then helped conclude the project on their own time."

Councilman Dick Griffith, one of the majority councilmen in the city manager rift that has ripped apart the once calm community, had a few verbal barbs, too.

It's a shame — a sad commentary — that a personal vendetta was allowed to mar in any way the very meaningful tribute. (See stories, elsewhere in today's Post.)

ELIO FONTANA, honored last weekend by community leaders, still was reminiscing the old days Monday, commented that when he was in college he had teachers who would say Hitler wasn't really bad . . . should be listened to.

"History sure repeats itself," said Fontana, who now is the freshman member of the San Mateo Junior College Board of rustees after 18 years' service on the Jefferson High Board.

FONTANA was not only the Jeff High student body president back in '38, but he was quite a runner, too . . . held the 220-yard record at the Daly City school for several years.

At the Fontana tribute at Nick Gust's Rockaway someone noted that — after Gust, an old classmate and good friend of Elio's — had talked at length of the cost and goodness (not bad for a Greek, Fontana said), of the meal we were trying to devour, "Elio's only fault is tha he taught Nick Gust to speak English."

REMEMBER CHARLES ABUCHON, the short (5-8 or 8½) civilian parking control officer in San Bruno? Well, all the time he was marking tires and writing tags, what he'd really wanted was to be a full-fledged policeman.

But, he was too short to make the San Bruno force, which had a no-budge requirement of 5-9. So Abuchon looked elsewhere, and now has won a patrolman's slot on the Menlo Park Police Department.

In the meantime, San Bruno has lowered its ceiling on height.

Life is like that!

San Bruno Bills 'Tree Times Five'

By BOB PETERSON

The City of San Bruno has sent a bill for $328 to Mrs. Norma Griffith, head of that city's Tree Times Five reforestation drive, for work done by city employes in helping Mrs. Griffith plant tress for a Redwood Remembrance Retreat in the city park.

Mrs. Griffith, however, says Trees Time Five Doesn't owe the city anything.

"Tree Times Five did not ask for help, was quoted no prices, nor given any indication anything would be charged until after the work was done. This is grossly unfair.

"The city administration should appreciate, as I am sure the public does, this effort to beautify San Bruno."

Mrs. Griffith recently obtained permission from the city council to plant 25 Coast Redwood Sempervirens at Buckey Grove in commemoration of California Veterans of Vietnam.

However, at Tuesday night's council meeting Councilman George Corey questioned the use of city time and manpower in aiding a privately sponsored effort. According to Corey, the council had simply given permission for the retreat, not for use of city manpower to plant the trees.

"If someone wants to undertake a private project, fine, and more power to them," says Corey. "But the entire project should be handled and funded privately."

Corey originally became concerned when City Manager Christopher (Kit) Menkin said the city had signed a waybill for delivery of the trees because Mrs. Griffith, who had ordered them, was not available to accept delivery.

Menkin assured Corey that the city was in no way going to pay for the trees. He said the signing was simply a courteous gesture.

Corey seemed to feel that the signing of anything by the city was in essence lending the city's credit to a private endeavor.

"Attempts to use city money or manpower without going through proper procedures will be resisted," says Cory. "If some group wishes city help, they should request permission for that help."

Corey's complaint Tuesday night got bogged down in technicalities of a personnel nature. Mayor Neil Christal noted that there were "a lot of insinuations" in Corey's remarks.

Councilman Ted Long, who said Corey was "alluding to the fact a plot was engineered to use park people to plant trees," called for a personnel session on the matter.

Menkin said he was instructed to send the bill as a result of that meeting to the Tree Times Five group. The bill is itemized as using four men for two days work which is equivalent to eight-man-days at $6 an hour.

According to Menkin, these men were utility men and the 64 man hours totaled $384. Another $40 was added for use of a tractor for four hours, for a subtotal of $424.

The final figure of $328 was obtained because the city deducted $96, allowing that two man days were spent partially working on a water line, which was strictly city related.

Menkin says the entire thing was a personnel matter. He said that on two separate occasions he had instructed these employes volunteering their city-working-hour services to the project that they were not to do so.

"Orders were disobeyed. The project was not authorized," said Menkin.

According to Menkin, the entire matter is being blown out of proportion. He said that his earlier position was that if there could not be enough volunteers to plant the trees he would either make some administrative determination or asked the council for permission to have the city aid in the project.

"I believe the council would have gone along," he said.

Meanwhile Mrs. Griffith said she was "flabbergasted and nonplussed" concerning the issue. "I can only conclude that Councilmen (Maurice) Hamilton and Corey and Mayor Christal (the three apparently voting to send the bill are anti-conservationist or opposed to honoring the veterans of this (Vietnam) conflict."

Mrs. Griffith said she didn't ask Menkin for a contribution, but I didn't expect him to try to take away $328 from the volunteer effort.

"After all," said Mrs. Griffith, "There is ample precendent for use of city employes on projects for general good — even some not on city property, and this is a city park."

She cited as an example a case last spring involving Earth Day. She said former city manager Gerard Vergeer used a city truck and employes without prior council approval. "This must have cost the city several hundred doolars, too," she said. "But reimbursement was not demanded.

"Here is a grove of millennial trees that could bring honor and good repute to the city throughout the state for years to come, and neither councilman Corey nor Hamilton would make a token contribution to it."

According to Mrs. Griffith, "the business community, three councilmen, all 15 of the park employes, and many individuals from the plublic at large, have already helped to pay for the project.

"I am sorry that the city council goaded the city manager into disciplining the park superintendent for the nobility of spirit that prompted him to offer assistance. I think he must have acted on the basis of precedent known to him, of assistance to worthy projects," said Mrs. Griffith.

Compelled To Think

JAMES HALLEY

Post-Times Columnist

"Future Shock" by Alvin Toffler (Random House, New York) is a shocker. It compels the reader to think about the future and the forces of change and innovation that whirl about us. It is must reading for anyone who wants help in understanding humankind, its present and its future course. That one may disagree with some of Toffler's conclusions is no mark on the value of this book.

Included in its thought-provoking questions and ideas is a consideration of invention and its application. Toffler declares that a century passed between the invention of the combine and actual marketing, a century and a half between issuance of the first patent for a typewriter and commercial availability, and 20 centuries between the discovery of conic sections and their application to engineering problems.

He then concludes: "Today such delay between idea and application are almost unthinkable." It is unfortunate that Toffler did not more seriously consider the gap between invention and successful use, for the future of which he writes so eloquently may well be affected by the difference.

The dominant factors in development of new products, systems and concepts are economics and chance. In 1969, 67,500 mechanical patents (including chemical and electrical applications) were granted These and a swarm of other ideas, designs, and concepts then enter a death struggle for practical application. For the lone inventor, the real fight begins on the day he receives his patent.

Which innovations will actually be produced in sufficient quantity and adequate quality to add their impact to the shocks (and benefits) of the future? This depends upon a variety of factors, including the nature of the patent, the enthusiasm its concept engenders, the energy and personality of the inventor and his sponsors, and the cost of engineering and production.

Because of the huge investments required, many innovations are launched only after extensive market surveys often costing in excess of a quarter of a million dollars. Really elaborate or complex new systems cost millions to get started.

Toffler failed to mention xerography, which required more than a decade to come into practical use, and does not allude to the countless projects trapped in the ooze of the current money scarcity or in the long term struggle for capital.

As the nature of the future is so highly dependent upon technological advance the selectivity gap is important to all of us. While the American marketplace has functioned as an incredible spawning base for invention, research and development, its operation is by no means flawless. Toffler's examples of the combine and typewriter testify to this, and the magic combination of a good idea, the right people, and sufficient capital remains a chancy business.

While mankind cannot be master of chance and therefore cannot control its future, it does seem that the teeming surge of American inventiveness should be assured. To accomplish this, some sort of overview is desirable. Perhaps this can be done through private grants and foundations or it may be that the government itself should become involved.

In a later portion of his book Toffler indulges in a longing for a science policy, but it seems that such activity should be limited to make certain that a generation of super planners does not stifle the extraordinary change mechanism that constitutes the American economy. What is needed is extensive publicity of the most attractive concepts to insure more even and constant growth. The public, once aware of the incredible opportunities of the future, could then have a voice in selecting its course, and setting its goals.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Post:

Cailfornians may be facing the most important item on the November ballot in the contest for the State Superintendent of Schools. What can one say about the contestants, Dr. Max Rafferty and Dr. Wilson Riles.

During Rafferty's eight years as leader of California's 150,000 teachers, der Max has indulged in rhetorical excess that he probably would prefer to have forgotten. What has he done, aside from attacking teachers, administrators, parents and belaboring the young with glittering adjectives? What about this man and his rhetoric? Perhaps the fairest treatment of Rafferty and his rhetoric is a well-documented book by Dr. Wm. O'Neill of USC, "Readin Ritin, and Rafferty!", Glendessary ress, Berkeley, 1969.

A sample quote: "Despite protestations to the contrary, Rafferty's indiscriminate attacks on our schools have done a great deal to erode popular confidence in public education as well as in the teaching profession itself. An educational system . . . rests upon a foundation of public trust. This trust grows by a slow . . . process. Rafferty's accusations have helped create a climate of popular intolerance of professional independence in education. He has exaggerated the ills of education . . . By undermining the public's belief in the competence of the educators, however, he has also done a great deal to undermine public respect for the teaching profession which he represents." (pp. 136-137)

By contrast, Riles' model administration of education programs has gained him appointments to two presidential task forces and mention as President Nixon's runnerup choice for United States Commissioner of Education.

He Doesn't 'Want to Starve in College'

Westmoor's foods classes are experiencing a unique and manly new look in the 1970-71 school year.

Many male upperclassmen have now invaded the once sacred confines of Westmoor's kitchens to take beginning foods with girls who are in advanced foods.

The masculine members of the class are learning basics; that is, how to prepare a nutritious well balanced meal, how to buy groceries, and how to plan a budget.

Mrs. Margaret Rossander, the teacher, is very excited in having the boys in the class and seeing how they react to certain situations.

What about the girls? Well, the girls don't feel bad about taking it a little slower or allowing boys to bake the bread beside them.

The girls are still maintaining an upper hand, because the boys are making little mistakes like burning muffins. The boys are taking it all in stride, but are becoming very cautious about handling things.

Among the reasons the boys gave for entering the course: "To know if my wife is snitching out of the budget," "Want to cook all kinds of dishes" and "Don't want to starve in college."

UN Association Work

SAMUEL CHANDLER

Daly City Librarian

IN THE YEAR OF the 25th anniversary of the United Nations the work of the United Nations Association of the United States should be noted.

Especially important is the pamphlet entitled Controlling Conflicts In The 1970's which is a report of the National Policy Panel, established by UNA-USA.

In the preface, Arthur J. Goldberg writes, ". . . the United Nations, even when it is able to contain and suppress violence, has yet to show the capacity to deal with the underlying grievances and pressures from which violence erupts. No enduring peace settlements are possible that do not relieve those pressures. This is one of the major future challenges of the United Nations — and hence to its members, who hold the UN's fate in their hands."

With this in mind, the panel has produced a pamphlet that should be on every adults' reading list.

Looking into the future, the members of the panel see recurring instability rising from economic and political problems in nations that have moved from colonial status to independence. They see problems stemming from rising nationalism and from a desire in some lands for overnight modernization. Many conflicts they believe will arise from a political and ideological contest between the United States and the U.S.S.R.

"OUR ASSUMPTION," they write, "must therefore be that a decade of turmoil, revolution, small wars, and attempted take-overs lies ahead."

Foreseeing these and other conflicts that will arise during the 1970's, the committee formulated a number of recommendations. Among them is a statement that "the Panel believes the national security interests of the United States require a reassessment of the instruments on which we place principal reliance for international conflict control."

The Panel believes that means must be found promptly for a larger number of countries to share more fully the responsiblity for international peace keeping. "It would be a mistake for the United States to continue carrying, or attempting to carry, so much of the responsiblity alone."

Other recommendations that might lead to "effective peacekeeping" may be found throughout the entire pamphlet. In the final section, however, individual members of the panel record their own recommendations and their own comments.

Since the publication of the report, the United Nations Association of the United States has launched a nation-wide educational campaign based upon the report, "Controling Conflicts in the 1970's —A significant part of the campaign involves use of a curriculum unit in high schools. This unit was prepared by the Iowa Study Committee on International Peacekeeping headed by Robert Parks of the Iowa State University.

IN PREPARING THE UNIT, the UNA-USA hopes that each high school principal will distribute this curriculum so teachers may use it, so that more young people may become concerned about the problems that face his country and effect his life.

Teachers and principals and other interested persons may obtain copies of the curriculum unit from: John B. Massen, President, Northern California State Council, UNA-USA, 125 Coronado Ave., Daly City, California, 94015.

WE'LL HAVE TO CONCEDE, we guess, that it's football season. But we're going to die hard. Now, don't you football fans get the wrong idea. We like football, but as any regular reader of the column will tell you, this writer is a purist. As day follows night, so must football season follow baseball season, and not a minute sooner than the conclusion of the World Series.

The light verse to soon follow the last dying gasps of copy for the baseball fan (with, we may assure one and all, the exception of an occasional Hot Stove League yarn). The first, shorter piece, we hope, will atone for the column's neglect this past season of critical comment on the new Oakland broadcast team of Harry Caray and Monte Moore. We feel it only fair that we do the same for Harry and Team that we did for Al and Team last year. The longer piece is self-explanatory — a bit of optimism to cuddle up with over the long winter's nights, if you're that kind of person.

ONE FINAL NOTE about the light verse which has been appearing in this column for the past few months. As we have explained many times previously, this column has two regular readers, aside from the editor and the typesetter, who HAVE to read it (and, sometimes, I even doubt the typesetter) — the writer's mother-in-law and his father, the former of whom doesn't understand a thing we write, and the latter of whom understands all too well.

One day the latter of whom called the writer and told him that if he wanted to make his column more unique, he should take a page out of the old time sports writers' copy. They often prefaced, or included somewhere in their reports, light verse, and the readers loved it.

"Nobody does that anymore," said Pop. "I think people would like to see some of that again. Sports should be entertaining, they should be fun, maybe even corny. You young sports writers nowadays are too profound."

It didn't matter to our sternest critic that we had never written light verse.

"Well, I have," he said, "and it's simple, especially if you don't care about making it perfect and profound."

So we gave him one of our usual smart aleck replies. "If you think it's so easy, you do it."

So he did and he does. He will be the first to admit that it's not always perfect, and certainly never profound; and maybe even sometimes corny. But he was right. Several readers, including the editor, have said they enjoy it. And nobody has complained about it. Especially this columnist, since he never asks for money.

HE MODESTLY NEVER WANTED us to reveal the author, but now we are, because we have a hunch the following two pieces will bring our first complaints. And besides, neoptism at all levels should be exposed. Our only excuse is that this is, as the editor continually reminds us, his blue pencil slashing away into the night, a family newspaper.

Give 'em hell, Pop! (Note: the columnist prints only that verse which proffers opinions with which he agrees.)

Hodges, Simmons and Thompson,

The Giants' broadcast team,
May not always be regarded,
In everyone's high esteem
But people who know baseball
Must consider it poor,
The often laughable remarks
Of Oakland's Caray and Moore

Westmoor and South S.F. Battle to 0-0 Deadlock

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Correspondent

The press box on the far side of Clifford Field, normally dark and empty at South San Francisco High School home football games, was lit up and buzzing with activity Friday.

The El Camino High School football staff was busy scribbling notes on the game taking place below. In the icy night air in South City, defending champion Westmoor and challenger South SF were playing to a 0-0 tie. Suddenly, the entire North Peninsula League 1970 championship rested in the hands of the El Camino Colts.

Camino has to play both Westmoor and South City. Camino now has a 2-0 record and one of the toughest defenses around. Depending on how Camino does in the upcoming biggies, Westmoor could retain the title, South City could regain it or El Camino could win it for the first time in league history.

The scoreless tie left both the Rams and Warriors one-half game away from first place. The feeling after the hard-fought game was not unlike a feeling one would get after kissing one's sister.

South City drove on the opening series from the 20 to the plays but the drive was stopped by a stubborn Ram defense.

Westmoor started a drive only to have Brad Dahl intercept a Mike Swallow pass on the 48. Again SSF drove and came to within 10 before being stopped. Fullback Wayne Ciardella did score from the 16 on the series but a lineman was offside and the play was called back.

Still again SSF drove on the next series and had second down and goal to go on the two. But a mixup in the backfield caused quarterback Marty DeMerritt to be dropped for an eight-yard loss. On the play DeMerritt's ankle was sprained putting him on the sidelines for the duration.

Relentlessly, the Warriors opened their second half by driving from the 49 to the one only to have Westmoor stiffen again.

On the last series Westmoor, by now frantic in trying to score, marched from the 41 to the one with just 10 seconds left. In trying to stop the clock Swallow threw out of bounds but it was ruled a backward lateral putting the ball back on the 14. Hugo Olazar then tried a 32-yd. soccer-style field goal that just did miss by inches and the extravaganza ended in frustration for both teams.

Westmoor's Dan Proctor, Irving Rowell, Jeff Orlich, Mike Billick and Jim Woodworth were the defensive stalwarts while SSF's Dahl, Scott Porter, Mike Senkir and Fritz Braunberger stood out for the Warriors.

THE POST'S SPORTS

El Camino Takes Lead in the NPL

By JERRY LITTRELL

El Camino High School took over sole possession of first place in the North Peninsula League on Friday but Half Moon Bay won the Medicine Bowl trophy to highlight the afternoon action.

The Colts downed winless Terra Nova, 26-7, to run their record to 2-0, one-half game ahead of three other chasers. HMB edged out Jefferson, 20-12, while Oceana and Serramonte played to a fumble-filled 14-all tie.

The story stayed the same for Camino. The defense played superb ball and the offense, centered around halfback Al Spitzer, crested enough of a stir for the needed points. So tough was the Colt front line that Terra Nova didn't score until it marched 80 yards in the final 45 seconds of play against Colt reserves. By then EC had a 26-0 lead.

Spitzer, who scored once on a 14-yard run, totaled 119 yards in just 15 carries. Steve Olney got Camino on the scoreboard first capping a 54-yard drive with a one-yard plunge. Just before half quarterback Dale Momii popped over from the five and the icing was on.

Broken limbs, collapsed lungs and other assorted miseries plagued both Jeff and HMB but the Cougars managed to suffer through in a little better shape. It wasn't a day for quarterbacks, however.

Cougar signal-caller Frankie Reyes was the victim of a senseless late tackle on an attempted PAT play in the first period and hobbled off the field with a broken leg, out for the year.

In the second period Jeff quarterback Ron Goss, on defense, was sidelined with a broken hand. In between these two and for several minutes thereafter, players on both sides were dropping off with assorted injuries that made the doctor run sprints from one sideline to the other.

Jeff Yerian did the scoring damage for HMB getting two tds on identical one-yard runs. Jefferson scored on a powerful, tackle-busting run by Anthony Aaron in the second period and a beautiful screen pass from Chinto Fonseca to Frank Tracy in the third period.

Cold, hand-biting weather messed up the artistic angle of Friday's Oeana-Serrmonte tiff as both teams totaled 15 fumbles, 190 yards of penalties and three interceptions in the 14-14 tie.

The Regents scored first when Dave Martin ran in from the four. Then Oceana's Desi Chavez, who passed for 224 yards total, hit Dave Hall from the 24 and teamed, with fellow junior Tom Harper from the 60 for the second Shark td. Reserve quarterback Steve Lopez got the Regents back in the last quarter when he found Dave Littlejohn on an eight-yarder and Littlejohn passed for the two-point PAT to tie the score with less than 30 seconds to play.

Frosh Night at Jefferson

Jefferson High School has planned a freshman parents night at 8 p.m., October 21, in the Daly City school's cafeteria in hopes of obtaining greater parental interest and participation.

A carload of money that shouldn't, leaves California every day.

You—and Proposition 10—can do something about it.

Hundreds of millions of dollars will leave California this year—never to return. Hundreds of millions more that should come in will go out instead to 45 other states with more modern laws. About ¾ of a billion dollars in all that should be spent here for new construction—generating thousands of new jobs.

Why?

Because large business loans can earn far more interest in almost every other state in the nation. That's why New York passed a law like Proposition 10 way back in 1850.

Proposition 10 will put an end to this money drain. And do it without costing you a penny or affecting the interest you pay in any way. (In fact, it might even lower it in the long run.)

How can Proposition 10 guarantee this?

Because it only applies to loans over $100,000, made to corporations and partnerships. The kind of loans so vital to the construction industry.

The State Legislature passed Proposition 10 unanimously and Governor Reagan signed it. Former Governor Brown supports it. So do business and labor unions. But their endorsement can't make it law without your YES.

Your YES on 10 November 3rd will keep California money here, where it'll do the most good.

Paid for by Californians for Yes on 10.
State Chairman: Art Linkletter
Vice Chairmen: Hon. Tom Bradley, Hon. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, Roger Kent, Gordon C. Luce, Mrs. Irene Parsons Mann.

For more jobs!
Vote YES on 10.

San Mateo Defeats Capuchino

By CHRIS STAVE

The Mid-Peninsula League title favorite was supposed to beat San Mateo Friday at Burlingame field, and for one half Mustang quarterback Keith Hernandez had the Bearcats on the run.

At that point it was impossible to forecast the final result — a 20-6 San Mateo victory that vaulted the Bearcats into front running for the MPL crown.

Cap rolled up 103 yards in the half, 96 of them in the air. The Mustangs had nine first downs. And, as the result of a Bearcat fumble on the San Mateo nine, the Mustangs left the field at the half with a 6-0 lead.

San Mateo had garnered 53 yards and two first downs. Cap had fumbled the opening kickoff at the 12, but the Bearcats fumbled right back in the end zone, and couldn't move the ball at all.

It looked like a long night for 'Cat coach Buzz Williams.

But the Bearcats turned the game around from the opening kickoff of the third quarter, and the man chiefly responsible was gutty back Kevin O'Donnell, who carried 32 times and ended up with 152 yards for the night.

O'Donnell has now carried for over 500 yards in four games.

The 'Cats marched 85 yards in 15 plays, all but one of them on the ground — O'Donnell splitting the running chores with new starter Keith Lax. Lax plunged two yards for the tying score with 5:42 left in the third quarter.

Dandy Debut for Brian

By CHRIS STAVE

When Brad Brian came to Cal from South San Francisco High School this fall, he planned to play a lot of baseball.

He had been a star for the Warriors under the tutelage of Coach Bob Brian — his father.

So Brad found himself playing starting catcher in the winter baseball league Cal runs in the East Bay. And if it hadn't been for Jim Cullom, he'd still be there

Cullom, the Cal frosh football coach, noted that Brad had played quarterback for SSF, and since Cullom is short on players this fall, he went to talk to Brad.

A number of conferences ensued between Brad, Cullom and the baseball coaches. The result was that Brad joined the frosh gridders for practice and became second-string signal caller.

Then, just before Saturday's season opener against UCLA, six of the frosh were suspended from competition when they failed to meet NCAA academic requirements. One of the six was the starting quarterback. That made Brad number one.

There was some doubt that Brad was big enough to play college ball. At 5-10, 170 pounds, he was considerably smaller than the current breed of towering, meaty ball handlers.

But Cal's passing attack works mostly from rollouts, and the height disadvantage was minimized.

The Cubs lost to UCLA 35-28 in an abbreviated game. But Brian made an auspicious debut, completing 16 of 27 for 255 yards and three touchdowns, including one 58-yard bomb to Blane Warhurst. Twice more he had Cal inside the UCLA four, only to be stopped.

Cullom gathered his charges together after thegame and told them that they were the guttiest players he had ever coached. There are only 26 Cubs left, and only six of those are linemen. At least nine frosh played both ways.

One of the nine was Steve Jackson of Hillsborough, who started at quarterback for Burlingame last year. Jackson didn't get in much time at quarterback Saturday, but played most of the game at defensive halfback.

Hank Sauer, the star back who was Jackson's teammate at Burlingame last year, was one of the six who could not play because of a scholastic technicality.

Walkie-Talkie Man Gets An EyeFull

By CHRIS STAVE
Post Correspondent

There was a walkie-talkie armed Capuchino man in the Hillsdale end zone on Friday afternoon scouting the Crestmoor-Hillsdale game. He got an eyeful.

What he saw was the Knights playing their most solid game in a long time, dominating the first half so mercilessly that the rest of the game was irrelevant. When the end zone powder had settled it was 52-6.

Crestmoor didn't have a chance. The first two times they got the ball, nothing. The first two times Hillsdale got the ball, zap — Rob Dean tore off runs of 42 and 31 yards for a quick Hillsdale lead.

Dean gained 105 yards in that half, caught passes for 49 more, and scored four of the five touchdowns.

When Dean and senior running mate Ed Kerel weren't riddling Crestmoor defenses, quarterback Terry Webb was. Webb was seven for nine in the half for 129 yards and two scoring passes of 22 and 26 yards.

The Knights gained 297 yards in the half, scored five times, rolled up thirteen first downs, and left the field leading 38-0. The Falcons had managed only two first downs and 49 total yards, a figure they wouldn't improve much in the second half.

Knight coach Ron Anderson was ecstatic and a little embarassed. "We did everything we could to avoid running it up in the second half," Anderson said. "But even on the second and third string, there was no letup.

"We kept control. We didn't get sloppy at all, and it's been a long time since we've done that. We never had to play their game. It's just our best effort in a long time."

Crestmoor's only score came late in the last quarter, when Falcon defensive back Gary Hicklin picked off a Brian O'Neill pass and streaked 42 yards to score.

LE PACINI

Caray, especially,
I cannot conceive how,
Charley Finley put up with him,
For a yearly 90 thou
So hats off to the Giant crew,
Don't worry 'bout your fate,
The competition 'cross the Bay,
It makes you three guys look great!
(Editor's note: This was written just before Caray quit).
Now that baseball season's over,
We put speculation down to rest,
'Cause the records will surely show
Who really was the best
But what about the players who
We know worked just as hard,
Their names won't appear in record books,
But their efforts, we can't disregard
I'll stick only with the home team,
But I'm sure you'd find the same,
If you'd check all the fine print,
On every player in the game
I'm sure that a wise owner,
When he negotiates for wages,
Looks deeper in the paper,
Than just the headline pages
We all know of the super stars,
Like McCovey and Willie Mays,
Dietz and Henderson and Bonds' years,
Will be talked about for days
When Hart came he helped with
Hitting and underrated running,
And the big guy in the bullpen,
McMahon, pitched with strength and cunning
Also among the super stars,
We must not forget their name,
There's Marichal (though not too good this year),
And Perry, best competitor in the game
And all the good young pitchers,
Their futures look quite bright,
They all showed sparks of greatness;
Maybe next year they'll put us right
On the bench was Ronnie Hunt,
The guy who has no fear,
And who hit into tougher luck,
Than good-glove Hal Lanier?
Then they're Gallagher and Fuentes,
They too had some big days,
And super-sub Frank Johnson,
That man surely did amaze
At the beginning of the season,
We had our reliable old pro,
And though he's still within the chain,
I hated to see him go
He was always there when needed,
His play was sturdy as a fort,
You must know who I mean,
We'll miss ol' Jimmy Davenport
Now we certainly can't forget this guy,
The team started winning when he came,
He instilled confidence in his players,
And let them play their game.
He's probably more recognizable,
Walking to the pitcher's box,
We can mean no other than
The manager, Charlie Fox
I know that I've forgotten some,
You can use your own recall,
And if I were Mr. Stoneham,
I'd give a raise to one and all.

Cage Signups for DC League

The Daly City Recreation Division has extended its sign-ups for the Monday Night Adult Three-Man Basketball League conducted at the War Memorial Community Center. Openings are still available in both the Open Division and the Under Six Foot Division.

League play will begin as soon as a minimum of six teams per league have signed up.

Serra Wins

The Serra High School water polo team nearly wore out the goal strings Thursday afternoon as it scored a 23-4 triumph over El Camino High School.

The irony of the match was that Serra's Marc Basanez led all scorers with six goals. Basanez is a former El Camino student lured to Serra because of its swimming program.

SWIM MEET

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department and the Pacifica Sea Lions Swim Team will co-sponsor an A.A.U. Swim meet at Terra Nova Pool on Saturday and Sunday from 9 to 3 p.m. each day.

NELL NORTON
Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

Which came first the chicken or the egg? While you are pondering this question, I'll go ahead assuming that you chose the egg before the chicken and start off today's ideas for good eating with an egg dish.

EGGS IN SPANISH SACUE

2 cans (each 14½ ounces) sliced baby tomatoes
2 slices bacon
1 medium green pepper, sliced into thin rings
1 medium onion, peeled and sliced into rings
¼ cup celery crescents
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons catsup
½ teaspoon Spanish seasoning
4 large eggs

Turn tomatoes into a 1-quart measure; remove enough of the liquid so that tomatoes measure 3 cups.

In a 10-inch skillet cook bacon until crisp. Remove bacon to paper toweling to drain; leave bacon fat in skillet. To bacon fat add the three cups tomatoes, green pepper, onion, celery, teaspoon salt and fourth teaspoon pepper.

Combine the two tablespoons water with the two tablespoons catsup and half teaspoon Spanish seasoning, blend and add to vegetables. Cover and simmer over moderate heat about 15 minutes.

Break an egg into a saucer being careful not to puncture yolk: slip it into tomato mixture. Add the remaining three eggs in the same way, covering as much as possible of tomato mixture. Cover tightly and simmer until eggs are firmly set — 3 to 5 minutes. Garnish with crumbled bacon. Serves 4

NOW FOR THE RECIPE using chicken. My family thought this stew was delicious. It's rich, thick and full of vegetables and chicken. Served with a tossed green salad and crusty French bread it makes a wholesome and tasty meal.

BRUNSWICK STEW

1 frying chicken, about 3 pounds
3 medium potatoes, 1 lb.
3 cups water
1½ teaspoons salt
1 package frozen lima beans
2 medium onions
1 can whole kernel corn (12 ounces) drained
2 or 3 medium tomatoes, peeled
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Cut chicken into quarters. Place in large saucepan or Dutch oven. Add the three cups water and one and one-half teaspoons salt. Cover, heat to boiling, then reduce heat and simmer until tender, about 1 hour. Lift chicken from broth.

Now add the three potatoes, pared and cut in half, the two onions, quartered and the package frozen lima beans. Again cover, boil gently 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Remove potatoes, mash and return to the stew along with the drained can of corn, peeled and quartered tomatoes and the one teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Cover and simmer 10 minutes.

Meantime strip the chicken from bones in large pieces and add to stew last 5 minutes of cooking.

Serve piping hot in soup bowels. Serves 6

JUST RECENTLY I found a recipe in my files with the name, Colorado Tea Cookies. The name was intriguing and the fact that they called for biscuit mix and pudding made them even more interesting. After baking them I can also say that they are very tasty too.

COLORADO TEA COOKIES

1 pkg. instant pudding, any flavor
1 cup biscuit mix
¼ cup oil
1 egg

Preheat oven to 375-degrees. Mix the package instant pudding (I used vanilla) cup biscuit mix, fourth cup oil and egg. (If the mixture is a bit dry add a little milk.)

Roll into small balls the size of small walnuts. Place on ungreased cookie sheet, flatten with fork. Decorate with chocolate bits or slices of candied cherry. Bake in 375-degree over about 12 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen cookies.

CORRECTION: The Marsala wine cake recipe that appeared on September 23rd. had an error in the method. Here is the correct version.

MARSALA WINE CAKE

1 pkg. yellow cake mix
1 pkg. vanilla pudding
4 eggs
Three-fourths cup oil
Three-fourths cup Marsala wine OR ½ cup berry syrup.

In a large mixing bowl combine the package cake mix and the vanilla pudding. Add the four eggs, three-fourths cup each oil and Marsala wine. Beat 5 minutes

Pour into well greased tube pan and bake in 350-degree oven 40 to 50 minutes, or until cake tests done. Cool in pan for 20 minutes. Turn out and cool completely and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

NOTE: If you want, substitute the half cup berry syrup for the wine. This makes a sweeter cake with a texture that is more coarse than the wine cake. But is equally delicious.

Halloween Apples, Cheesecake, Crunchy Pie All Have Caramel Base

A variety of treats for Halloween and the subsequent holiday season is suggested by Kraft Kitchens, using as a base the Kraft packaged caramel candies.

CARAMEL APPLES

49 (14-oz. bag) Caramels
2 tablespoons water
4 or 5 medium size apples, washed and dried
Wooden sticks

Melt caramels with water in double broiler or in saucepan over low heat. Stir occasionally until sauce is smooth. Insert a wooden stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Place on greased waxed paper; chill until firm. Keep in a cool place.

For interesting variations on the basic recipe, decorate with popcorn, miniature marshmallows or semi-sweet chocolate pieces. Some other sweet ideas: roll in finely chopped nuts, crushed peanut brittle, crisp rice cereal, or flaked and shredded coconut.

CARAMEL CHEESECAKE

1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup Parkay Margarine, melted
28 Kraft Caramels
⅓ cup mil
4 cups Kraft Miniature Marshmallows
2 8-oz. pkgs. Philadelphia cream cheese
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Kraft chocolate stars

Combine crumbs, sugar and margarine. Press onto bottom of 9-inch spring pan. Melt caramels with milk in double boiler or in saucepan over low heat, stirring occasionally. Gradually add marshmallows. Stir constantly until sauce is smooth. Cool slightly. Combine softened cream cheese and vanilla, beating until well blended and fluffy. Whip in caramel mixture; fold in whipped cream. Pour into crust; chill. If desired, decorate with additional whipped cream and chocolate stars.

CARAMEL CRUNCH APPLE PIE

28 caramels
2 tablespoons water
4 cups sliced peeled apples
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
¾ cup flour
1-3 cup scgar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup chopped walnuts
1-3 cup margarine

Melt caramels with water in double boiler or saucepan over low heat; stir occasionally until sauce is smooth. Layer apples and caramel sauce in pastry shell. Combine flour, sugar, cinnamon and nuts; cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Sprinkle over apples. Bake on lowest oven rack at 375 degrees, 40 to 45 minctes. 8 servings.

CARAMEL POPCORN BALLS

28 Caramels
2 tablespoons hot water
2 quarts popped corn, salted

Melt caramels with water in double boiler or in saucepan over low heat. Stir occasionally until sauce is smooth. Pour over popcorn; toss until every kernel is coated. With hands slightly moistened with cold water, form in 6 balls.

CARMEL NUT CRISPS

49 (14-oz. bag) Caramels
3 tablespoons water
2 cups crisp rice cereal
1 cup corn flakes
1½ cups shredded coconut

Baked Goods Gain Tang From Prunes

Prunes can lend moistness and a tart-sweet tang to a wide variety of desserts. And prunes, with eggs and potatoes, are being spotlighted by the United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service as the Plentiful-Foods-to-Feature.

Try this deliciously moist Sour-Cream Prune Bread or Prune Spice Snaps.

SOUR-CREAM PRUNE BREAD

¼ cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
2-1-3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon gound cloves
½ cup sour cream
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup cooked, pitted, chopped prunes

In a mixing bowl, cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Sift together flour, allspice, cinnamon, baking powder, baking soda, salt and cloves. Add to creamed mixture alternately with sour cream, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Mix just until blended. Combine lemon juice with prunes; add to batter. Turn into 9 x 5 x 3-inch pan. Bake in 350 degree oven 50-60 minutes or until done. Turn out of pan onto wire rack to cool.

PRUNE SPICE SNAPS

1 cup sugar
1 cup molasses
1 cup shortening
2 eggs, beaten
2 cups cooked, pitted, and quartered prunes
1½ cups chopped walnuts
4½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
Frosting

Cream together sugar, molasses and shortening. Add eggs, prunes and walnuts; stir until blended. Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices; stir into creamed mixture to make a firm dough. Chill. Divide dough into 4 parts. Roll each portion into 14-inch lengths. Place 2 lengths on baking sheet; shape each into 4-inch width. Bake in 400 degree oven, 12 to 15 minutes. To make frosting mix ¾ cup confectioner's sugar with 3 to 4 teaspoons water, milk or lemon juice; stir until of frosting consistency. Frost cookies while warm. Cut each length diagonally into 1¼ inch bars. Makes 4 dozen bars.

Handy Board Can Harbor Bacteria

That handy wooden cutting board in your kitchen can be a breeding ground for food poisoning bacteria if it is not cleaned properly. Always clean it thoroughly — with lots of soap and warm water — especially after using it in preparing raw meat or poultry.

Otherwise, food inspectors of the United States Department of Agriculture warn, it can become a comfy home for the bacteria that are present in raw meat and poultry. These bacteria are normally destroyed by proper cooking. An improperly cleaned cutting board can spread the bacteria to cooked meat and poultry or any other food prepared on it.

USDA Explains How To Identify, Select Grapes for Table Use

Although grapes are as old as mankind itself, you may still be confused by all the varieties you find in the food store.

Most table grapes are of the "European type," reports the United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

The European-type grapes are grown principally in California which is responsible for 90 percent of the nation's grape production. European types are firm-fleshed and generally have a high sugar content. Common varieties are Thompson Seedless, Tokay and Cardinal, and Emperor.

Only small quantities of Eastern - grown, American - type grapes are sold for table use. These grapes have softer flesh and are more juicy than European types. The outstanding American-type variety is the Concord, which is blue-black when fully matured.

To buy high quality table grapes follow these tips from USDA's marketing specialists:

Look for well colored, plump grapes that are firmly attached to the stem.

White or green grapes are sweetest when the color has a yellowish cast or stray color, with a tinge of amber;

Red varieties are better when good red predominates on all or most of the berries. The stems should be green and pliable.

Avoid soft or wrinkled grapes (showing effects of freezing or drying) and grapes with bleached areas around the stem end.

Here are some of the leading grape varieties you will find in your markets this fall:

THOMPSON SEEDLESS—is the medium-size green-white to light-gold grape for the easiest eating. It is available from June to November.

EMPEROR—is a large light red to red-purple grape with seeds. It is available September through April.

TOKAY or FLAME TOKAY—is a large, brilliant to dark-red grape with seeds. It has a fairly tough skin and is a favorite for holiday feasts and decorations. It is available from September through November.

RIBIER—is a large, juicy purple-black grape with seeds. It is often referred to as the "King of the Blacks," which makes it excellent for decorative fruit bowls. It is available from July through February.

Other western white-grape varieties you may find this fall are: Lady Finger and Italia which are available from August through October, and Calmeria and Almeria which are available from October through February.

Always handle grapes gently. They may be washed either immediately on arrival home, or just before use. Wash them gently and drain thoroughly before storing in the refrigerator. To serve them at their best in quality, refrigerate in plastic bags and use within 3 to 5 days.

Although grapes are delicious "au natural" or in fruit salads and desserts, they also lend themselves to enhancing many entrees. Try them as an addition to poultry or tuna salad, to chicken cooked in wine, or in Lemon Sole in White Wine Hollandaise.

LEMON SOLE IN WHITE WINE HOLLANDAISE

¾ cup halved white seedless grapes
3 tomatoes, chopped
3 shallots, chopped
3 sprigs parsley, chopped
6 filets of sole
3 cups dry white wine
Salt and pepper
Hollandaise sauce

In a shallow pan place the seedless grapes, tomatoes, shallots and parsley. Over this lay the fillets of sole and cover with 3 cups of wine. Simmer fish gently about 10 to 12 minutes, or until fork tender. Remove fish carefully to a hot serving dish and keep hot. Strain sauce, press tomatoes and grapes through sieve, and season lightly with salt and pepper. Stir tomato-grape sauce gently into Hollandaise sauce. Pour sauce over sole and garnish with seedless grapes and parsley. Serve at once. Serves 6.

Help Child Learn Good Food Habits

How do you bridge the fresh vegetable gap in your child's diet? Use your ingenuity, not your anxiety, say the people who market Chiquita brand vegetables. The company's food and child behavior consultants offer these ideas for putting "much" in his menu.

First of all, don't use food as a reward, or take it away as a punishment. Food or meals should have little emotional connotation. The best results are gained when the mealtime is relaxed and happy with no sense of pressure or hurry.

Introduce your child to different tastes and munchy textures from the time he is able to chew, at two and a half, on the average. At this age he will be able to manage such finger foods as celery sticks (From tender inner stalks) spread with butter or favorite jelly; carrot curls, tiny lettuce chunks from inner heart leaves; parboiled cauliflowerets; banana chunks, or cucumber spears.

To make sure your child chews thoroughly and slowly, start doing something as simple and basic as including a piece or two of crisp lettuce in every single sandwich he eats. When there is lettuce in the sandwich, you know he will have to chew. Eating is slowed automatically, digestion is better.

Meal games are another strategy for introducing munch into their lunch. For example, try a foreign-flavor lunch on your pre-schoolers or older children.

ISLAND LUNCH

Choose larger crisp iceberg lettuce leaves. Wrap one or two around a slice of cooked ham, bologna, or luncheon meat. Place the meat on top of the lettuce and roll up. Place several on a plate, and eat with the fingers. To round out the tropical theme, eat this island-type food with corn chips or wheat wafers, a glass of milk, and for dessert, a banana. Go native by tucking a flower in the side of your hair. If you have souvenir paper leis, both boys and girls can wear them. Use brightly colored or flowered paper napkins.

Inter Harvest, Inc., (the vegetable crops subsidiary of United Fruit Company) has compiled a whole series of meal games and menu suggestions for salads and vegetables with child appeal and will offer it free as its contribution to the Food Council of America's fall Nutrition Awareness Campaign. Titled "Put Munch in Their Menu," the 28-page booklet can be obtained for proof of purchase from any two Chiquita brand vetetables via coupons available in supermarket produce displays, or by writing to Inter Harvest, P. O. Box 2115, Salinas, California, 93901.

Rum Spices Applesauce Pudding

Applesauce-Rum pudding is a hot dessert flavored with raisins, nuts, cinnamon and spice, and just a hint of rum.

Applesauce-rum Pudding

2 cups canned applesauce
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup broken pecans
1 cup seedless raisins
¼ cup rum or 1½ teaspoons rum extract
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon allspice
4 egg whites
1 teaspoon lemon extract
½ cup sugar

Combine applesauce, brown sugar, pecans, raisins, rum (or rum extract), cinnamon, nutmeg, and allspice; heat. Pour into 1½ quart casserole. Refrigerate for 24 hours. Beat egg whites stiff; add lemon extract and gradually beat in sugar until mixture stands in peaks. Mound meringue in center in a ring or spread over top of applesauce mixture. Bake in 325 degree oven, 15 minutes or until meringue is delicately brown. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Dessert Uses Leftover Cake

Use that left-over cake in this luscious dessert. Drain and dice 4 or 5 canned cling peach halves. Combine with 6 cut-up marshmallows, 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, one cup sweetened whipped cream and a cup of cubed stale cake. Chill several hours.

Veteran CHP Officer Dies

Lloyd Minehan of San Mateo, a retired California Highway Patrol Officer and a member of a well-known family of peace officers, died September 14 at Sheltering Pines Convalescent Hospital in Millbrae.

He had been in poor health for years, suffering the first of a series of strokes nine years ago.

Minehan retired in August, 1968, after more than 36 years with the patrol, unbroken except for service with the Navy in World War II. His last years of active duty were in commercial enforcement and he was a familiar figure at the "scale houses" on Bayshore Freeway in South San Francisco.

Minehan is survived by his wife, Angela, and two brothers Milton Minehan of San Mateo, who retired seven years ago after a long career with the San Mateo County Sheriff's Department, and Leo Minehan of Auburn, who retired last January after long service with the San Mateo Police Department.

Ghost Show In San Bruno

After a year's absence, the City of San Bruno Recreation Center in City Park will once again be haunted by the weirdest and meanest spooks that the Recreation Department can scrape up. These odd creatures will prowl throughout the Center from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

From it's maze-like haunted halls to it's groovy, gruesome graveyard this frightful tour will feature, spirits in dark gloomy corridors, dead bodies gliding through the night and a vampire who has avoided the stake for 300 years.

Alec Store Will Open in San Mateo

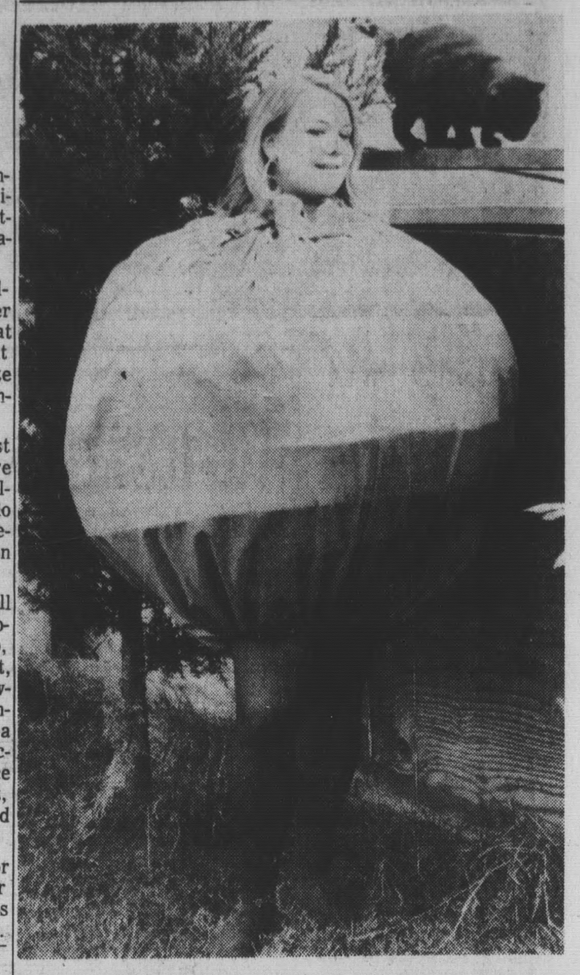
Alec Discount Shopping Center, the Bay Area's largest privately owned discount department store, will open in San Mateo October 28.

Alec personnel are remodelling and revamping the former U-Save store on 42nd Avenue at El Camino Real, changing it into a modern and up-to-date family discount shopping center.

Alec Land opened the first Alec Discount Department Store in Daly City-Colma in 1961, followed by Alec No. 2 in Menlo Park in 1962, Alec No. 3 in Fremont in 1966, and Alec No. 4 in San Jose in 1969.

The new San Mateo Alec will have a complete auto accessories department, camera shop, cleaners, hardware and paint, housewares and giftwares, jewelry, ladies and childrens colthing, mens and boys clothing, a complete nursery, pet shop, records and tapes, auto service center, family shoe department, health and beauty aids, toys and stationery and sporting goods.

Tickets may be purchased for all Bay Area (West Bay) major professional sporting events as well as other major attractions.



PRETTY MISS PUMPKIN (Tonya Houg) will be a feature of the "Most Sincere Pumpkin Patch" in Pacifica, where the Linda Mar beach will be transformed into a traditional pumpkin patch Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dark. The project is to benefit the American Field Service's Foreign Exchange Scholarship Program.

No Reasons For Discharge of Manager?

South San Francisco Councilman Warren Steinkamp Monday made a comment concerning the firing of former City Manager Tom McKenzie that surprisingly elicited no response from anyone.

Steinkamp referred back to the previous council meeting at which time the matter of the firing was brought up. He said he had come away from the meeting under the impression that comments made during that session implied there were reasons for McKenzie's firing.

"To my knowledge," said Steinkamp. "There were no reasons for his discharge."

The chambers were silent for a moment, and Mayor Patrick Ahern continued with the next item of business.

Capuchino Band Wins 3 Trophies

Capuchino High School's Marching Band came home from the Concord Band Review with three trophies to add to their collection. The Drum Major, Jim Harrington, won a trophy for second place. The Baton Twirling Majorettes came home with a third place award and the band won the first place trophy in their division. Owen Fleming is the band director and Harry Spencer, the assistant. San Mateo High School Band also participated and won a trophy for third place, under the direction of Mr. Uhs.

During the awards ceremony the UC Marching Band performed, having a few former "Cap Band Members" in their band.

There were 26 bands competing from as far south as Fresno and as far north as Ukiah.

Bombs Thrown In Halloween Warmup

Some Pacifica youngsters apparently began warming up for what could be an active Halloween over the weekend.

They threw at least five Molotov cocktails, though without major damage.

The first was thrown Saturday night near a house at 142 Santa Maria, which is just west of the police department's parking lot. The cocktail landed in an area between the house and the lot, causing a minor fire.

Sunday night the backstop at White Field erupted into flame, as 30 to 40 youngsters watched from a high area along Linda Mar Boulevard, near the Sanchez Adobe, according to fire officials, who responded to extinguish the fire shortly after 7 p.m.

The fire extended 20 feet across the backstop and four feet high, with one fireman noting, "They must have thrown gas over the entire backstop before throwing the Molotov."

Fire Chief Calvin Hinton found another "cocktail" in the middle of Linda Mar Boulevard later. Another grass fire also was attributed to the cocktails.

Damage in all instances was slight, the authorities said, and, in all likelihood, merely pre-Halloween warmup pranks.

Discipline Is Topic for Youth Bureau

The Pacifica Youth Service Bureau, sponsored by the county's Delinquency Prevention Commission, will meet at 7:30 p.m., October 26, at Cabrillo School to hear a family discipline talk.

Morgan Yamanaka, a San Francisco State college social welfare instructor, will speak on "Family Discipline: What Happened to It?"

The Youth Service Bureau, established in 1969, serves as a private counseling agency for youth and their families. A young person in trouble may be referred to the YSB by the school, his parent or juvenile authorities.

One way YSB is attempting to cope with the problems of youth, a spokesman explained, is the current family life education series.

The October 26 session will be the fourth. Already the YSB has heard Ralph Rutley, coordinator of the YSB, speak on "Youth in Crisis," "The Family Under Assault," while Dr. Fran Hovel, an associate professor of psychology at San Francisco State, has discussed the "Effect of Punishment."

Award for Speaker

Miss Jacklyn Lauchland, guest speaker at a recent South San Francisco Kiwanis Club was recently presented with a certificate of appreciation by Kiwanis leader Rev. R. Eugene Linamen, for her work with the Institute of Nations.

Miss Lauchland, a graduate student in education at UC, Berkeley has worked in a program at International House and has been active in promoting international relations amog youth.

Reporting on her experiences Miss Lauchland stated, "that one of the local interesting aspects of the International program is the summer camping program in the Santa Cruz mountains. Here, youth from every walk of life and from all over the world assemble to have first-hand encounter with students and teachers in fellowship and study.

Bruno Recall Report Set

A report on the San Bruno recall effort was made last week to councilmen by Orville Wycoff, chairman of the recall committee.

Wycoff told the councilmen the movement is "well organized" and the group will file petitions on October 22. He said, however, that petition circulation would be made after the November 3 general election to avoid confusion.

Pacifica Youngster Burned in Gas Fire

A 9-year-old Pacifica boy suffered third degree burns over the chest and arms Sunday when he and a companion lighted a container full of gasoline.

The victim, Terry Murphy, of 247 Reichling, in the Vallemar section of Pacifica, was leaning over the container, firemen said, when the fire flared up and ignited his shirt.

Seven - year - old Melquiaees Perez of 236 Reichling, where the incident occurred, was unhurt.

The two boys were in a four-foot-high plywood "fort" when they decided to ignite the gasoline.

The young Perez boy extinguished the shirt fire and his father, hearing the boy's screams, rushed out and ripped off what remained of the shirt. The Murphy boy then ran home, where firemen found him on his parents' bed. Murphy was reported to be in satisfactory condition today at Mary's Help Hospital.

Fireman Joe Bonollo said Murphy suffered back burns in a fire three years ago, and the Perez boy's hair was singed the day before when the youngster were playing near a stove.

The Daly City children's art program has begun at the Art Center at 101 Peoria for children four years of age and older.

Enrollment still is invited, according to Recreation Director Charles Vincent.

The schedule of classes follows.

Wednesday, 3:30-5 p.m., 11 years and older; Saturday 1-3:30 pm., sculpture.

Friday, 3:30-5 p.m., six to 10 years of age; Saturday, exploratory crafts.

The no-fee classes are to continue through the week of December 14, Vincent said.

Second Award

FAIRFIELD — Chief Master Sergeant Henry C. Poitz, nephew of Mrs. Lillian Serbin of 906 Hanover Street, Daly City, has received his second award of the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal during his retirement ceremony at Travis AFB, Calif.

S.F. Woman Arrested in Forgery Case

Daly City police arrested a San Francisco woman on charges of forgery, possession of stolen checks, possession of dangerous drugs and possession of narcotics paraphernalia Saturday after she attempted to outrun a patrolman.

The suspect, 22-year-old Anne Lindyn, had attempted to cash a check at Macy's, police said, when the cashier became suspicious and called over a security guard.

The security guard happened to recognize Daly City patrolman Jim Mendiera, in plainclothes, and asked him to talk with the woman.

Mendiera and the woman left the store, started walking down the Serramonte Shopping Center mall, when suddenly the woman began running, a police spokesman said.

However, coming toward them was Patrolman John McHenry, who had been called by Macy's in regard to the check incident. McHenry took the woman into custody.

At the police station, the authorities said, a matron discovered the woman possessed a quantity of methedrine, in addition to drug paraphernalia.

Street Named After Ed Kauffmann

Ed Kauffmann, 87 years old, is frequently called "Mr. South San Francisco."

That's because he was for 50 years (1914 to 1964) the city treasurer; was at one time (1933) general manager of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Co.; was the Wells Fargo Express agent in the city (1913); was president of the South San Francisco Bank (1933), which later became a branch of Crocker-Citizens; used to be president of the Chamber of Commerce (1928), etc.

His years of civic service have been honored on many occasions in the industrial city, with dinners, luncheons, awards and testimonials.

But one kind of honor had been omitted. There was no place in South San Francisco that bore his name.

Last week Cabot, Cabot and Forbes, developers of the CC&F Office-Industrial Park (occupying land that Kauffmann once managed) closed that gap in the list of Kauffmann honors.

They named a street for him: Kauffmann Court, a strategic cul-de-sac extending westerly from Forbes Boulevard in the CC&F Park, facing the shore of San Francisco Bay.
